DECISION DUE ON JONES SOON

Investigation Chairman Predicts Recommendation of Committee This Week.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 8—Chairman Brewster (R-Me) said today a senate commerce subcommittee probably will decide this week whether to recommend confirmation of Rep Robert F Jones (R-Ohio) as a member of the federal communications commission

Jones denied flatly late yesterday for the second time testimony to the subcommittee that he joined the Black Legion, in 1938 Replying to sworn statements by two members of the hooded organization that they helped induct him, Jones declared

"There is absolutely no tie-up by me with any organizations that are subversive."

Jones' testimony concluded the subcommittee's open hearings Brewster said the group will meet later this week to consider the nomination

Character Witnesses Appear

Six character witnesses appeared on behalf of Jones shortly before he took the stand. Ohio neighbors, a former classmate and a Catholic priest all testified that the congressman is a fairminded man

Rollin R. Moxley of Luma, O., a Negro, said Jones had demonstrated to his satisfaction and that of 90 per cent of Luma's Negro population that he is not a member of the Legion.

Assertions that Jones joined the Legion nine years ago have been made by Drew Pearson, columnist and radio commentator and three self-described members of the order signed affidavits that Jones was a member

Testifying under oath, two of these men—Police Chief Frank A. Barber of Beaver Dam, and Glenn E. Webb of Luma—said yesterday they helped induct Jones at a flashlighted night time ceremony on a farm near Luma.

Virgil Herbert Effinger, a Black Legion official acknowledged signing an affidavit that he witnessed the alleged ceremony, but said he could not recall on the stand whether Jones actually had been sworn in. His 1938 affidavit said he saw Jones take the oath.

Jones told the subcommittee he believes it was "properly discounted" what he called efforts by Pearson "to smear me."

Testimony yesterday brought acknowledgments by

▶Barber that he was committed to a hospital for the insane for 61 days in 1922 and that he once was jailed for "shooting a guy" in Hammond, Ind. He said his commitment to the hospital resulted from a "frame-up."

▶Webb that he forged 19 payroll checks in 1942 while employed by Luma Cord Sole and Heel Co The checks totaled $653-866, Webb said

Effinger, commenting on an affidavit stating he was convicted of contempt of court, said he could not remember whether he paid a $200 fine and served two months in jail for what Brewster called "false and perjured allegations" against an Allen county (Ohio) judge.

HOUSE PASSES BILL TO CUT INCOME TAXES

Measure Now Goes to Senate Where Early Passage Is Forecast.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 8—The house today passed the Republican-backed bill to cut income taxes by $4 000 000,000 annually for 49,000,000 taxpayers, beginning Jan. 1

It goes to the senate where approval also is forecast.

The action, which may encounter another presidential veto, came after Speaker Martin (R-Mass) personally appealed to the house to pass the bill by such a decisive vote 'as to persuade the President that the people should have this delayed justice.'

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 8 — The $4 000 000 000 income tax-slashing bill cleared its first hurdle today as the house approved procedures barring amendment to the measure

The bill would reduce taxes Jan 1 from 10 5 per cent to 30 per cent for 48,000,000 federal income taxpayers.

Presidential Secretary Charles G Ross told reporters that Mr Truman 'will make no statement of his attitude prior to action on the legislation"

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) of the house ways and means committee, author of both bills, said the new one "meets the President more than halfway"

"With Votes To Spare"

Martin told reporters he expected the house to pass the measure 'with 20 or more votes to spare over the two-thirds" needed to overthrow another veto He said he would not be surprised to see a majority of the Democrats voting for the bill.

However, a determined group led by former Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) sought to maneuver a showdown on a substitute tax-cutting bill that would be more to the President's liking

Moreover Rayburn said "I am not ready to concede that the house will override a second veto"

Most administration supporters, however, pinned their main hopes on the senate where sponsors of the legislation still are unable to name more than 61 senators who would vote to override a veto That is three short of the number needed if all the 95 senators were to vote on the issue

A fight also is building up in the senate over demands that the so-called community property principle now applicable in 12 states be extended to all states

Has 5 Major Points

Here's how the Republican measure works:

1. A 30 per cent cut on taxable incomes of $1,000 or less (income after exemptions and deductions)

2 A 30 to 20 per cent cut on incomes between $1,000 and $1,400

3 A 20 per cent cut on taxable incomes between $1,400 and $137,000

4 A 15 per cent reduction on income between $137,000 and

Cleveland Man Kills Burglar He Caught "Fishing" for Pants

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 8—A burglar, who "fished" through a window with a fishing line and pole for a 400-pound city employe's $302,000.

pants, was shot and killed today by the worker, Nicholas L. Hanna, 30, police reported.

Hanna told police he was awakened by the noise made when the burglar hooked his pants from a chair with the line and attempted to "angle" the trousers toward the window of a first-floor bedroom at the Hanna residence.

Taking a .38-caliber revolver from a dresser drawer, Hanna went out the front door and commanded the burglar to raise his hands, Hanna said.

When the burglar walked toward him pleading to be released, Hanna told police, he shot the "fisherman" through the hip, and then fired another shot through the man's head when the latter made a gesture toward his pocket.

Papers found on the burglar, who was about 35, indicated he worked on a Baltimore and Ohio railroad track crew, police said.

SURVIVES WILDS. Safe again with his parents is 3-year-old Wayne Bowers who was found in mountains after being missing 56 hours from Marine recreation camp at Big Bear Lake, California

ONE DEAD IN TRAIN WRECK

6 Others Hurt as Circus Cars Derail in Nebraska Smashup.

By The Associated Press

HUBBARD, Neb, July 8—Eight cars of Clyde Beatty's 15-car circus train were derailed in the early-morning darkness today, killing one circus worker and injuring at least six

The accident happened on the northeast outskirts of this village as the circus billed as "the world's greatest wild animal' show was enroute from last night's Sioux City, Ia, showing to an engagement at Norfolk, Neb, tonight.

Beatty himself was one of the first out of the wrecked train He assigned several of the elephants to dragging away torn ties and rails and pulling in replacements His cargo, he said includes the 'largest fiercest mixed group of savage jungle-bred male and female tigers I have ever handled" But the animals, most of them in the fore part of the train which stayed on the tracks, did not escape their cages

A number of performers jumped to safety as the train began to leave the tracks

The man killed was John C Fisher, 40, Lewiston, Pa., assistant boss canvasman His head and chest were crushed by the heavy double wheels of a circus truck which rolled over him as he slept in a sleeping bag atop a flat car

3 All-Star Philly Ballplayers Hurt In Train Wreck

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 8—Nearly 100 passengers, including three members of the Philadelphia National league baseball club, suffered injuries, a few serious, and more than 100 others were shaken up yesterday when the Baltimore and Ohio's Shenandoah crashed into a switch engine at the entrance to the Grand Central station train shed.

Twenty-seven of the injured were given first aid treatment at St. Luke's hospital, but only five remained. Those released included Ben Chapman, manager of the Phillies, and his wife, Ola, 37. More than 70 were given first aid treatment at the station.

Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, the Phillies' star pitcher, was knocked unconscious, and Emil Verban, second baseman, was shaken up but they did not require hospital treatment, Verban said they would be ready to play in today's major league All-Star game. Chapman, named a coach for the National league team, said he would be on the coaching lines.

The most seriously injured was Othal Livingston, about 40, a Negro pastor of Lincoln, Ark., and San Francisco.

W. C. Baker, general manager of the B. and O., said the eight-car Shenandoah, inbound from New York, collided with a switch engine pulling empty Pere Marquette coaches as it neared the station, which is south of the loop district, at Harrison and Wells streets.

BEVIN LAUDS AID PLANS AS PEACE HOPE

Says Marshall Program May Yet Be Greatest Contribution to Amity.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, July 8—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today the Marshall aid-to-Europe proposal might yet make the greatest contribution to international amity but indications from the east were that states in the Soviet orbit, with one exception, would stay away from the Paris conference

Bevin indicated in an address in London that the door still was open to Russia to join in implementing the Marshall program. He said the program was purely an economic one and added that prejudices, 'either religious or ideological," should be ruled out of the discussions.

Only Czechoslovakia of the nations in the Soviet sphere has accepted formally the British-French invitation to the Russian-boycotted talks which begin Saturday

Others To Stay Away

Romania, Poland and Yugoslavia were reported planning to avoid the meeting Albanian, Bulgarian and Hungarian circles in London felt that those three states, also would stay away

Finland has indicated that "geographical and political reasons may keep her away from Paris but Finnish politicians felt that cabinet discussions now under way in Helsinki might result in sending an observer to the talks

Norway, Denmark and Sweden will confer tomorrow in Copenhagen to determine their joint attitude toward the proposal advanced by U S. Secretary of State Marshall in a June 5 speech at Harvard university. The three Scandinavian nations will join in the Paris talks, their London diplomatic representatives said, if convinced the program would not lead to a division of Europe

Switzerland's federal council today accepted the invitation in principle

Estimates Number

In Rome, Italian Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza was reported to have estimated at 350 000,000 the number of Europeans who would need aid under the Marshall plan Europe's population outside of Russia, by best available sources, is 404,222 840 Sforza was said to have told an inter-ministerial committee Italy's most valuable contribution to the recovery program could be Italian labor

In all 22 nations were invited by Britain and France to join them in setting up committees to list Europe's needs and resources and facilitate American aid

Bevin said in his address in London that "there is a very happy prospect now of approaching the problems of Europe on an economic basis"

"If built upon rightly and worked out properly, it (the Marshall proposal) may yet make the biggest contribution to the unity of the peoples of Europe," he said

"Must Be Stopped"

"Europe is bleeding to death. It must be stopped, and in the stopping of it, you have got to rule out any prejudices, either religious or ideological"

The Soviet news agency Tass, quoted on a Moscow radio broadcast heard early today in London, said Romania, Poland and Yugoslavia would not take part in the Paris meeting

In a Bucharest dispatch, Tass said the Romanian government had decided not to join the conference. Under a Paris dateline, the agency declared that Poland and Yugoslavia would be glad to accept U. S. credits but "prefer to have relations directly with creditors if possible and without intermediaries."

Lima Fugitive Caught At Jackson, Ohio, Home

By The Associated Press

JACKSON, O., July 8—Sheriff Stanley Lewis announced the capture yesterday of Grover Spry, 26, one of four prisoners who escaped from Lima State hospital for criminal insane early Saturday.

Spry, who was under sentence of one to 20 years for statutory rape involving an 11 year old girl, was caught hiding in brush near the home of his mother here.

Two other fugitives were captured in Missouri Sunday. Still at large is Ira Eden, 43, of East Rushville, charged with rape.

Stiff Necks, Goggle Eyes Grow As U. S. "Saucer" Jag Reels On

By The Associated Press

America's "flying saucer" jag reeled on today Stiff necks and goggle eyes were the order of the day Sky watching was a new profession

North Carolina joined the disk parade

For the first time the disks were reported whirling through the atmosphere over Asheville in Western North Carolina and over Greensboro and Raleigh in the north central portion

As reports continued to pour in from all over the nation tabulators ran the tally of states in which the saucers had been seen to 43 Observers in the District of Columbia and Canada also said they had sighted the mysterious objects

The only states whose skies were still clear of the disks were Nevada, North Dakota Mississippi New Hampshire and Rhode Island

Explanations Take your choice they were radio controlled flying missiles sent aloft by U S military scientists Or they were merely light reflected on wing tanks of jet-propelled planes Or—

No one knew for sure

The world inventors congress posted $1,000 for delivery of a flying disk to the exposition which opens in Los Angeles on July 11

Could they be spotted by radar?

A spokesman for the Army Air Forces said in Washington that no attempt had been made to spot the spinning, flying, whirling, stationary disks because there was not enough equipment to blanket the nation

Lt Col Harry W Schaefer of hysteria

the Wisconsin Civil Air Patrol announced in Milwaukee his group planned to conduct a series of mass flights in hopes of learning something about the flying objects

Searching for an answer, Caspar W Ooms, the patent commissioner, said he did not think any of the 3,000,000 patents on file in his office held the explanation to the saucers

"Flying Saucers" in Hand Worth at Least $3,000

By The United Press

A "flying saucer" in the hand was worth $3 000 today, but those seen in the sky were still a dime a dozen There were no takers for rewards of $1 000 each offered in Chicago, Los Angeles and Spokane for a genuine flying saucer

The Army Air and Ground forces announced that they were investigating the reported cloud-hopping disks with an open mind But privately, high-ranking army officers said they believed the saucers were a hoax and that some persons were the victims of

More Marion County Residents Report Seeing "Flying Saucers"

Two more Marion county residents reported today that they have witnessed the "flying saucer" phenomenon over this area. J. W Campbell, president of the Campbell National bank at LaRue, and his assistant, Orville Boblenz, saw the saucers about 10.30 Friday night, Mr. Campbell said today. The two were about five miles apart when they noticed the unusual performance of what they took to be reflections in the sky.

Mr. Campbell explained that he was driving home from Morral when he saw the lights shining in front of his automobile. After he discovered it was not a reflection from lights of a car behind him he got out of the car, thinking there must be some birds flying low in front of his auto. When he saw the "things" from outside they appeared to be reflections in the sky, he said.

"They were about two feet long and very thin," Mr. Campbell said. "There must have been two or three of them. They were traveling very rapidly in the sky, and seemed to circle back and forth, first bright then disappearing. I watched them for about three miles while I was driving south. Then a black cloud came across the moon and they disappeared. They seemed to be very distant in the sky. I believe they were reflections of some kind.

Mr. Campbell said the saucers resembled reflections from a light but that there was no beam leading to them. He hesitated to mention his experience, he said, because he had heard no one else talk of the matter. At the time he had not read any account of the appearance of "flying saucers" over the country. When Mr. Boblenz also mentioned seeing them at the same time, Mr. Campbell was convinced his eyes were not playing tricks on him.

Since discovering that the saucers have gained nationwide [illegible] Mr. Campbell said he has [illegible] in the sky for the past several nights in hopes of seeing more, but nothing has appeared.

Ohio Skies Filling Up With "Whirling Disks"

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, July 8—Stories of "flying saucers" became more widespread in Ohio today as folks in at least eight communities reported they too had seen the disks which have created the nation's No. 1 mystery.

Five Ohio State university students solemnly reported they saw saucers streaking across the sky Monday evening as they batted baseballs on the practice diamond south of the stadium.

The students were Charles Williams, 19, of Steubenville; Robert Fish, 19, of Akron; George Whitecare, 22, of Springfield; Wendell Rice, 20, of North Canton, and William Santschi, 22, of Alliance.

Previously, the disks had been reported over Dayton, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Akron, Springfield, Zanesville and Fremont.

MAJORITY OF OWNERS LINE UP WITH LEWIS

Only South Withholding from Best Terms in Miners' Union History.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 8—An agreement averting a nation-wide soft coal strike was signed today by John L Lewis and a majority of the bituminous operators.

In announcing the signing, Lewis told a news conference that it is "reasonable to assume" the entire industry will accept the agreement within a few days

More than half of Lewis' 400,000 United Mine Workers are covered by agreements thus far signed by northern commercial operators, steel companies and mine owners in the west and mid-west.

For the workers, it means the highest pay in history and the right to work when "willing and able."

Higher Prices for Public

For the public, it means higher coal prices and possibly less coal production under a shorter work day provided in the contract.

The miners originally were scheduled to return to the pits early today at the end of a 10-day vacation But they stayed away pending word from Lewis that the wage agreement—completed last night—had been formally signed.

As soon as the various operators signed, UMW headquarters sent out the signal for the back to work move in those operators' mines

Still to accept the pact are the southern operators, who refused to participate in industry-wide negotiations, and scattered operators in the midwest and west Combined, they represent slightly more than 40 per cent of total soft coal production.

"Taft Slave Law"

Lewis said the pact would be "interesting" because it is the first negotiated since passage of what he scathingly described as the 'Taft slave law,' a reference to the Taft-Hartley bill putting new restrictions on unions

Discussing that law, Lewis accused the Republican party of "selling out to finance and industry" for contributions to the 1946 congressional campaign which gave it control of congress.

"One thign about a Republican congress,' Lewis said, "they stay bought"

The agreement provided a flat $1 20 a day increase in earnings but Lewis calculated—without explaining his figures—that it meant $4 54 extra a day for each miner. Presumably he was counting the miners' equity in increased welfare fund assessments and other benefits

Chairman of Board

He told reporters he would be chairman of the three-man board of trustees which will administer the huge welfare fund of the miners under the new contract, the royalty to finance the fund will go up from five cents a ton to 10 cents, Ezra Van Horn, Cleveland, O., operator, will represent operators on the board and Lewis said that Thomas Murray of New York, will continue as the neutral member.

The money collected from the five-cent royalty during the 12 months of government operation—approximately $25,000,000 — will be merged into the new welfare fund.

The miners will have in addition to the wage and hour benefits, a form of "freeze" on their house rentals which could be lifted by area wide agreement or by negotiation by the UMW.

The miner also will be able to purchase heating coal at cost which Lewis said would "mean a substantial saving" in that item.

Lewis, waving a cigar, told reporters with unmistakable pride that the contract that he had negotiated had "more real value for the individual mine worker than has hitherto been negotiated in this or any other industry through collective bargaining."

"We hope that it is the beginning of a new era in the industry," he continued.

The contract, effective until July 1, 1948, provides:

1. A 44½ cent basic hourly wage increase—raising miners' pay to $13.05 a day—for above 1947's second-round "pattern" of wage increases in other industries.

2. An eight-hour day, including portal-to-portal time, instead of a nine-hour day; also, a half-hour instead of 15 minutes for lunch.

3. A 10-cents-a-ton levy, instead of 5 cents, to support the miners' welfare fund. The fund will be governed by a three-man board of trustees made up of Ezra Van Horn, President and operators; UMW President Lewis; and a neutral member to be chosen jointly.

4. Agreement [illegible]

Unanimously Passed By House, GI Bond Bill Lands in Senate

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 8—Backed by a 386 to 0 house vote, the $1,800,000,000 terminal pay bond redemption bill today waited only a spot on the senate calendar to complete its journey through congress.

The armed services committee announced plans for a sub-committee to consider the measure tomorrow, and Republican whip Wherry (Neb) pledged prompt senate action.

The bill sailed through the house yesterday after G.O.P. leaders called it a move to reduce the national debt and cut operating expenses of the government.

The legislation permits approximately 9,000,000 former GI's and several thousand ex-officers to cash the bonds if they wish after Sept. 1. Under present law they must hold the bonds until five years after the date of issue, receiving two and one half per cent interest.

Major Operation
Gene Reece, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Reece of Caledonia, was admitted to City hospital yesterday and underwent a major operation. His condition is reported to be "satisfactory."

Employe Uninjured By 2 Hours in Bank Vault

By International News Service

TOLEDO, July 8—Gilbert Hoffman, 63, suffered no ill effects today after being locked for more than two hours in the vault of the Commercial National Bank branch in Toledo, Monday.

Hoffman, an employe of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, was at work in the vault when the door accidentally swung shut. The time lock was set for eight hours.

Oxygen was forced into the vault through a crack in the door while Russell Stell, a Pixley Safe Company employee, went to work with a chisel and finally unlocked the vault.

Manuscript in Bottle (Beer) Tells 'Inside' Story of Saucers

The following manuscript [illegible], who was last seen [illegible] ago reading a copy of [illegible] on the steps of the [illegible] Public library, was [illegible] a beer bottle in a [illegible] motor in Central park. [illegible] empty bottle apparently [illegible] from a great height).

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

ABOARD A FLYING SAUCER OVER PITCHER, Okla. — Don't [illegible] these flying discus are [illegible]. Here I am in the [illegible] one zooming around the [illegible] landscape like a boom-[illegible].

[illegible] things aren't disks or [illegible] at all. They're built like [illegible] hat [illegible] inches tall. [illegible] reason you [illegible] down be-[illegible] been disagreeing about [illegible] is you haven't seen the [illegible] thing. All you have seen is [illegible] section of [illegible] where [illegible] of the [illegible] invisible [illegible] were turned off these [illegible] space ships as they passed [illegible] close to the sun on their way [illegible] from Mars.

Hal Boyle

Yes, Mars! I am a prisoner aboard a 1947 model "flying saucer" from another planet. Let me explain:

I left the New York public library at dusk the other day and stepped into a quiet bar to wash down a warm vitamin pill with a cold bottle of beer.

Looks at Visitor, Faints

Finishing it, I turned to a silent figure sitting next me—the only other customer at the bar—and all but fainted. I saw a thing some eight feet tall, covered with thick green hair, with one eye like a hard-boiled egg in the center of its forehead, and no visible mouth at all. He was naked, his hands were three-clawed and big enough for a Brooklyn center fielder.

The green man's yolk-yellow eye burned menacing red. One hand twisted one of a series of knobs on his chest marked "Slang, American," and noiseless words drifted to me:

"Scram, Mac. But take along some beer. You're going on a long ride."

Then I found myself lifted and tossed sprawling. There was the sound of a door closing and a sense of lifting rapidly into space.

Manhattan Falls Away

I scrambled to my feet and looked out the window—its infra-invisible paint is only invisible when you look at it from the outside. Manhatten was falling away beneath us like a toy town.

"Well, how do you like your first ride in a flying saucer, Orson Welles?" leered the green man. "You're on the way to a place where there are more Martians than there ever were in New Jersey."

"Look, this may be a flying saucer," I complained, "But I'm not Orson Welles. I got this high forehead from wearing a tight hat."

"Then who are you?"

"I'm his cousin, Artesian Welles," I countered, "and who or what are you?"

"I'm Balmiston X-ray O'Rune from Mars," said the green man, "and you have probably ruined my chance to win the sweepstakes."

"What sweepstakes?"

Treasure Hunt Sweepstakes

"Why the sixty thousandth centennial running of the Universal Martian Treasure Hunt Sweepstakes!" crossly grunted the green man. "This time there are 500 space ships competing. To win I have to bring back twelve rare objects, including Orson Welles. Now somebody will beat me. It's all your fault for looking like somebody else."

Moodily he tossed some peanuts on top of his head. To my mild surprise it opened and a double row of teeth chomped down on the peanuts. Now I knew where his voice had been coming from.

"What are the other items on your treasure hunt list?" I asked.

"Oh, I've already got a slice of moon cheese, a burning spark from the sun, the fingerprint of Mother Machree, a phonograph record of Gargantua singing "Mammy," and an autographed smoke ring from Winston Churchill's cigar," said the green man.

Here a Long Time

"I've just got a few things left to do in this country—like buying a new motor car, getting a nickel beer and a good five-cent cigar, and plucking a hair from the eyebrow of John L. Lewis."

"Balmiston, old boy," I said, "I think you and the other flying saucers are going to be here a long time. Your search is only beginning."

"I'll keep you as a hostage then," he said. "You steer while I catch a little sleep."

So here I am wheeling this blasted flying saucer back and forth between the Bronx, Santa Fe and Seattle. I have scribbled down this story and twice tried to smuggle it out in a bottle through the gravity exhaust tube. But each time the green man woke up and caught me.

Somehow I'll manage to get the bottle out. You must believe what it contains. Bigger tales than this have come out of smaller beer bottles.

If I succeed I'll send out more details on the flying saucers tomorrow. If, however, the green man catches me again, well—

"Look out below, Peoria!"

Two Auto Accidents In Morrow County

Two automobile accidents, one at 10:35 a. m. Monday the other about an hour later were reported by state highway patrolmen.

The first, involving a car driven by Irvin L. Richards, 65, of Creston, O., and a truck driven by Earl Bottomley, 35, of Mansfield, happened eight and one-half miles north of Mt. Gilead on Route 30-S. Patrolmen said the accident occurred when Richards drove over a hill and attempted to stop when he saw the truck on the road ahead. The car skidded on the wet road, went out of control and came to a stop in the ditch. Mr. Richards suffered a minor cut on the wrist. His wife, Mrs. Sadie Richards, and a daughter, Mrs. Marther Warner of Lodi, who were in the car, escaped uninjured.

A car driven by C. W. King, 53, of Kansas City, Mo., went out of control on the wet pavement at 11:30 a. m. Monday about a half mile north of Cardington on Route 42. Patrolmen said the car skidded off the road and crashed into an embankment. The driver was uninjured. The car was taken to Mt. Gilead by the Myers and Strain Wrecker.

Oakland Church Class Elects Mrs. McCleary

Mrs. J. L. McCleary was elected president when the L. A. D. class of Oakland Evangelical United Brethren church met Thursday night at the home of Mrs. C. O. Reeves on Davids street. Other officers are: Mrs. Ross Walker, assistant to the president; Mrs. Reeves, secretary, Mrs. Merle Young, assistant secretary; Mrs. John Bauman, treasurer, and Mrs. Allen Jacox, assistant treasurer. Mrs. Young led devotions, and Mrs. Mamie Ritzler and Mrs. F. B. Vermillion offered prayer. A total of 43 sick calls during June was reported. Mrs. Vermillion was in charge of entertainment which included talks by Mrs. Fannie Murphy. A letter was read from Mrs. Rosina Parker, a member now on vacation in Michigan. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Jane Reeves.

Social Affairs

MISS JANICE JONES and Miss Mary Jane Llewellyn were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower Saturday afternoon complimenting Mrs. Marion P. Wiant, a recent bride. The guests were entertained at the home of Miss Jones at 441 Summit street. Appointments for the table, arranged for refreshments, were in pink and green and places were marked with corsages of vari-colored garden flowers. Mrs. Wiant, who was Miss Maryanna LaPierre before her June wedding, found her gifts on a table transformed into a miniature flower garden of summer bloom and foliage, in front of the fireplace in the living room. The afternoon was spent socially.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley E. Foust of west of Marion are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Nina, to Thomas M. Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Bowman of Upper Sandusky. The wedding will take place in the fall

Members of the Tom Breneman Neighborhood club met for a chicken supper last evening at Ringer's Inn. Later tables were filled for cootie, first and second awards going to Mrs. Barbara Severns and Mrs. Nellie Sharp. At a regular meeting held recently the hostess was Miss Helen Townsend of Waterloo street. Awards in cootie were won by Mrs. Severns and Mrs. Lloyd Sharpe. Lunch was served. Mrs. Freda Scofield of Fies avenue will be hostess for the next meeting.

A meeting of the House and Garden unit of the Marion Garden club will be held Friday afternoon at the Federation Home. The meeting is scheduled for 1:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Harry Bolan was elected president and Mrs. Hazel Shuster secretary and treasurer at a meeting of the Pollyanna club Friday evening at Ringer's Inn. Cootie was played, honors going to Mrs. Roy Bender. The next meeting will be Sept. 15 with Mrs. Lettie Howison as hostess.

Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Phyllis Metzger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Metzger of 206 Wildwood court, to Charles D Roentgen, son of Mrs. A. E Roentgen of Lakewood, O., and the late Mr. Roentgen. The wedding took place Saturday, July 5, at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs F F Black, in Bowling Green, O. Rev F Elwynn Peace officiated for the double ring ceremony and only the immediate families attended.

The setting for the wedding was bouquets of white madonna lilies, blue delphiniums, greenery and palms and tall lighted white tapers in seven branch candelabra

The bride chose for her wedding a white street length dress with which she combined navy blue and white accessories She carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of red carnations and baby breath and showered with white satin streamers. Her jewelry was a gold bracelet, a gift from the bridegroom. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Yvonne Metzger. She wore a sea green ensemble with black accessories and a corsage of pink bonnaful roses

Arthur Roentgen, brother of bridegroom, served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Metzger chose a brown crepe dress with tan and brown accessories. Mrs. Roentgen was attired in a pink dress with black accessories Each wore a corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was served at the University club. The table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake and bouquets of flowers Immediately after the dinner, the couple left on a two-week trip into northern Michigan and Canada. Upon their return, they will reside in Rocky River, O.

Mrs. Roentgen was graduated from Harding High school with the class of 1940 and attended Bowling Green State university last year. Mr. Roentgen, a graduate of Lakewood High school, attended Fenn college in Cleveland before entering the U. S. Navy in which he served three years in the Pacific area Following his discharge he attended Cleveland School of Art and is now art director for Beck and Wall, Inc., in Cleveland.

The Radnor Baptist church was the scene of a wedding Friday, July 4, when Miss Beatrice June Wright, daughter of Mr and Mrs Frank Wright of Radnor, became the bride of Carl Taylor Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs James Gray of Radnor. The couple repeated their vows in a double ring ceremony at 10:30 o'clock in the morning before an altar decorated with bouquets of summer flowers and ferns Rev. Albert Hill, pastor, officiated.

A program of music by Miss Jeannette Pugh, organist, preceded the ceremony. Her selections included "O Promise Me," DeKoven, "I Love You Truly," Bond, "Because," d'Hardelot, and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride chose for her wedding a pale blue linen dress accented with a white embroidered yoke. She wore a white hat and carried a colonial bouquet of red rosebuds and baby breath. Her only attendant was Miss Mary Frances Ziegler. She wore an aqua dress trimmed with matching lace, and a pink hat and carried a colonial bouquet of red carnations and baby breath.

Kenneth Gray of Delaware, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents Following a short wedding trip, the couple will reside in their new home at 633 East Mark street in Marion.

Mrs Gray was graduated from Radnor High school with the class of 1947, and Mr. Gray was graduated from there in 1945. He served 18 months in the U. S. Navy and is now employed at the Ponak Steel Co plant

Out of town guests were present from Delaware, LaRue and Columbus.

The home of Mr and Mrs. H L Bruck at 913 South Prospect street was the scene of the wedding Sunday, June 29, of their niece, Miss Mary Mildred Conner of Marion to Charles Edward Lauter, also of Marion. The couple repeated their vows at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon before the mantel decorated with lilies, blue delphinium and palms Rev E M. Burroughs of Marion, retired Evangelical United Brethren minister, officiated for the double ring service

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Robert Conner of Middletown, was attired in a light tan gabardine suit with which she combined brown and white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid. Mrs Robert Conner of Middletown, sister-in-law of the bride, was her only attendant She wore an aqua crepe dress with tan accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Best man was Carl J. ## EXTENSION OF TURNPIKE COMMISSION SUGGESTED

Pennsylvania's Governor Proposes Study, Joint Parleys.

By The Associated Press

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 8 — Governor James H. Duff left with the general assembly's continuing research agency today a proposal looking toward ultimate extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike westward to the Indiana-Illinois border.

The governor last night vetoed a bill authorizing Pennsylvania's participation in an interstate turnpike commission, along with the states of Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana to plan a westward extension of the 160-mile toll highway now connecting Harrisburg and Pittsburgh

Pointing out that the Ohio legislature defeated a proposal for an interstate turnpike compact, the governor suggested that the Pennsylvania turnpike commission and the joint state government commission, the legislature's research agency, get together "for the purpose of study and conference with representatives from the states named to the end that a thoroughly practical and workable compact may be promulgated."

Mr Coles was a member of the Presbyterian church and had lived at his present home for 42 years Surviving with the widow is one daughter, Mrs Ralph Gamber of Milwaukee, Wis., one step-daughter, Mrs. Guy Rubins of Marion, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the J. T. Lucas Funeral home at Upper Sandusky with burial in Fehl cemetery at Marseilles. Time of the funeral is pending word from the daughter.

DELEGATES NAMED TO 40 ET 8 MEETING

Boxcar To Be Taken to Prominade Nationale.

Delegates and alternates were elected to attend the Prominade Nationale to be held in New York in September when Marion Voiture No. 48, 40 et 8, met last night in the Legion Dugout. D. J. MacDonald presided in the absence of Norval Foreman, chef de gare.

Elected as delegates were H. A. Hoopes, William E. Marks and D. J. MacDonald, and alternates, Newton Cunningham, Norval Foreman and Francis D. Cook Conducting the voting as tellers were W. E. Orcutt, Clifford Chapman and Fred P. Haas.

The Voiture engine and boxcar will make the trip to the Prominade Nationale and it was announced that there will be space for about 12 or 15 members who wish to make the trip

One application for membership was received. Plans were made to hold an outdoor "wreck" in September. William Arndt reported on a trip made to Mansfield last month where the voiture attended the dedication of the Girl Scout quarters and also participated in the wreck staged by Richland County Voiture No. 20.

An announcement was made that a set of colors has been purchased and will be taken to the Grand Prominade to be in Cincinnati and also to the Prominade Nationale in New York.

Less Hutchins, More Sense

IN A PARTING shot at universal military training, which congress has shelved until further notice, an organization called the National Council Against Conscription uses these arguments:

The atomic bomb has made military training an outmoded form of national security; universal training gives a nation the feeling of power without the reality of power; it would give the United States the idea that it was leading from strength instead of weakness; this would force Russia to intensify military preparations; the only way to have peace is to abolish war, therefore the United States should abolish war instead.

Twenty persons have signed this astonishing piece of garbled reasoning, among them Robert M. Hutchins of University of Chicago fame. His presence helps to explain the garbling. On Jan. 23, 1941, Hutchins said the United States shouldn't help Britain because it would involve this country in war. On March 30, 1941, he warned that the United States couldn't fight totalitarian states without becoming one itself and therefore it shouldn't fight. On July 15, 1941, Hutchins announced smugly that 70.7 per cent of 5,000 persons polled by the America First committee were opposed to fighting Germany. In September he warned that the United States was doomed because it couldn't decide between war and peace.

What the United States needs in 1947, 1948 and thereafter is a lot less Hutchins and a lot more common sense. The debate isn't over what's wrong with military training; everybody knows its weaknesses. The debate is over what's wrong with waiting until the first shot's fired to start getting ready for another war, in case there should be another one. The same mistake repeated three times would be too often.

A Deadline Passes

A DAY slipped by last week almost unnoticed. It was the last day on which court-martial proceedings could have been instituted against Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, Navy and Army commanders in Hawaii at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack.

When it was called to his attention, Senator Ferguson, on the committee which investigated the attack, said it didn't make any difference. He asked, "Why should these men have been subjected to a trial when their top commanders in Washington were exonerated?"

Senator Ferguson might have gone ever farther. The nation also was guilty. It had become overconfident, convinced nothing would happen because it didn't want anything to happen. That's an attitude we must guard against lest it bring another Pearl Harbor disaster on us. Only in case of another surprise attack it wouldn't be at an installation 2,200 miles off the coast. It would be where it really hurt.

Pattern for Peace

IT'S a noble statement the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America presents as a pattern for world peace. The council, which represents 30,000,000 Americans of 25 Protestant denominations, says the single great moral issue is the police state versus the free society. All other opposing theories, such as communism versus capitalism and free enterprise versus socialism, are but normal "diversity and experimentation."

The council says our task is to make the American stand for freedom unalterably clear and the moral and spiritual forces of the world will flock behind freedom's banner. The statement, which will be studied this summer at hundreds of church conferences, says this moral offensive must include relief and reconstruction of devastated areas "to a degree not yet understood or accepted by our people.

This help, the council believes, should be thoughtfully apportioned to revive shattered economies where possible, should not be used as a tool to foster political alliances or our particular economic pattern and should go beyond money and goods "to stimulate the spirit of reconciliation and good will." It believes the offensive should combat Russian propaganda which seeks to confuse the issue and should allay the fears in other nations that they are caught between two great powers, each seeking to impose its will on them.

These are noble aims worthy of the churchmen who drafted them. They take into consideration the fact that the concept of a free society cannot be transmitted to a hungry people by words alone, nor yet by goods alone, and the fact that material aid sent abroad should not be considered as a bribe or purchase of loyalty. Founded as they are Christian precepts, these aims would set a new note in international policy.

In the United States the average white woman lives to be sixty-nine and one-half years old and the average white man to be sixty-four and one-half years old.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Observations on Modern News Reporting.

WASHINGTON, July 8—Old Westbrook Pegler, whose typewriter wears a purple ribbon, has been pounding holes in it protesting against the course of journalism. His rhetoric rides the soft political reporters who do their eight hours, five days a week, and quit when the whistle blows, without much feeling for the old-time journalistic idea of a reporter being a public servant, working in the public interest. Mr. Pegler thinks these latter day reporters adhere too much to the interest of their unions, generally the CIO, using nice stuff about the union bosses, but slanting their stuff subtly against the public on some everyday issues, including the tax cut and the union reform legislation, and glorifying the heavy drinking crowd of politicians formerly in and near the White House. He seems to think journalism has thus lately been serving the public different news than formerly.

That's Not All

Pegler's purple ribbon has recorded only some of the undercurrents which are trying to carry journalism away. When he was serving his apprenticeship in the United Press association, he came to work during the hot summer with a bathing suit under his clothes, then stripped down to these necessities, and read all day long over the telephone to small suburban newspapers the telegraphic dispatches, while perspiration poured from him in his phone booth.

Pegler learned news the hard way, which never is forgotten. He acquired a skilled nose for the false, a passion for the public interest, and a good style—just as we all tried to do in that same U. P. office,—Ray Clapper, Hugh Baillie, Tom Stokes (Ernie Pyle was on the same floor) and myself.

My own encounter at that time with the developing social forces came when the U. P. wanted me to work regularly from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. and I quit. I did not mind working two days without sleep during a national convention or while a big story was on. But 7 to 7 was a little too much as a regular proposition, even for a firehorse, particularly as I worked seven days a week, getting $10 extra for Sunday.

Did Thorough Job

But this gang always got the other side of the story, came up on aggresive public interest journalism, checked its facts, was never sued except for publicity effect, and served under the old Scripps motto which said: "Give the light and let the people find their way."

The New Deal crowd always envied us. They all wanted to be columnists. They thought it was merely a matter of expressing an opinion, not realizing opinions are valued in objectivity. Politicians like Harold Ickes looked to journalism, not as a field of public service, but an opportunity for political publicity service. Even Mr. Roosevelt once told me he planned to be a columnist, like his wife, when he left public life.

The grotesque incongruity of this ambition with the ideals of journalism did not occur to them. They had no training for the highly skilled profession of reporting or observing judicially. If they had all decided they liked to pull teeth and set themselves up as dentists, without experience, they would not have been further from the track. Of if they had set themselves up as surgeons of the body politic (actually they really aspired to this), with a purpose of making the body politic over into something undefined, they could not be further from newspapering.

Difficult Situation

Somewhat similarly, reporters in journalism may be hampered today by the necessity for a dual character. When considering their hours, wages and working conditions, they are collective members of a union which appropriates millions to influence public opinion on all subjects, but at their reporting work they are supposed to disassociate themselves from their union character, divest themselves of all implications of CIO-PAC, and become a public servant. I do not know if this could possibly be done. I could not do it.

Reporters need their union. But where they have gotten themselves into their dilemma is in permitting their union to become a subsidiary of an agency for control of public opinion. They have allowed it to try to fix their opinion on every question of politics, both as to men and affairs, instead of keeping their union as their own private matter for negotiating their own wages, hours and working conditions.

Just a Minute

By JACK TARVER

All Very Voluntary

I am in receipt of a billet-doux from my landlord.

If agreeable, he writes, my rent is to be raised effective the first of last week.

It's been a long time since '76, but the spirit of the minute men still lives. The minute the President signed the rent decontrol bill, the landlords raised the rent.

Oh, it's all very voluntary, of course. I have my choice in the matter: I can either agree to the increase or adjust myself to life in a tree.

Jesse James, I should have said, where did you leave your horse? I thought you were a vegetarian, I should have said, and here you come wanting your pound of flesh. Did you have a big funeral when you buried your conscience, I should have said, and how can you shave without looking at yourself in the mirror?

You can't bluff me, I should have said. It's a free country. I'm a citizen. I know my rights.

OK, I said, where do I sign . . . .

Disability of a President

By RAYMOND MOLEY

WHEN congress considered the legislation which puts the speaker and the president pro tempore in line of succession to the presidency, a single profound issue was left untouched. This issue, to which no one has ever had an answer, is what constitutes "inability" of the president "to discharge the powers and duties" of his office.

Two questions are involved. What is "disability?" And who is to determine it? The Constitution clearly contemplates that disability may be permanent or that it may be temporary.

The following words of the Constitution are involved: "In the case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president, and the congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability, both of the president and vice president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed, or a president shall be elected."

Two Notable Examples

That this contingency is important is proved not only by the plain facts of the physical and mental frailty of human beings, but by history. For more than two months, President Garfield was almost completely incapacitated. He performed only one official act—an appointment. The issue was then sadly resolved by his death.

In President Wilson's case, grave doubt must exist as to his capacity over a period of nearly a year and a half. The evidence shows that in that long vigil things were left to whatever Mrs. Wilson and Admiral Grayson could contrive. The cabinet, congressional leaders and even the president's secretary were virtually unable to discuss business or get direct decisions from the stricken president. Vice President Marshall, loyal and doubtful of his authority, refrained from taking the initiative.

On one occasion, the senate foreign relations committee appointed a sub-committee to see the president, ostensibly to discuss the Mexican situation, but really to see whether he was capable of performing his duties. A distressing interview followed, after which the committee reported that Wilson's mind was vigorous and active. Partisanship entered this incident, and the real issue was blurred.

Plenty of Proposals

Many suggestions have been made to settle the question of disability. One is that the vice president himself should determine the extent of the president's inability to act. It is doubtful if any reasonable man would take such a risk. Another suggestion is that the next in line of succession or one of the houses of congress should put the question before congress in the form of a concurrent resolution. Another is that the supreme court should decide.

A more orderly and constructive method would seem to be a plan modeled on impeachment proceedings. The house would, under such a plan, raise the question and by a vote appoint a committee—perhaps designate its judiciary committee—to marshal and present the evidence. The court or jury should then be the senate, with the chief justice of the United States presiding. The issues could then be resolved: First, is there disability? And, later, has disability been removed?

Such a plan, it would seem, could safely be adopted by congress as a law or, to make certain, it could be submitted as a Constitutional amendment to the states. In the face of the increasing vicissitudes to which our flesh is heir, this grave question should be settled without delay.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Mr. Truman has given us all a lesson in Sunday motoring . . . If you want to build yourself a breeze on a holiday weekend get yourself a police escort.

* * *

It is not difficult . . . Most states will supply any motorist doing 40 with a police escort . . . Direct to the jug.

* * *

I hear that after the President's car passed, a Virginia woman phoned police to report seeing a "flying saucer" wearing panama hat and glasses.

* * *

She said "it was headed in the direction of Washington and flying so low it touched the road on the straightaways."

* * *

Anyhow, Dewey has been assured that he will carry Oklahoma next year . . . That leaves him 47 out of '48.

Daily Bible Thought

We excuse our own faults, may be if we knew all the circumstances that surround others we would be equally patient toward their faults: "Be patient toward all men."—I Thess. 5:14.

MAKE YOUR TOWN SAFE

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, July 8, 1937. Most of the northern half of the country sweltered in heat that sent the mercury beyond the 100 mark in several states and caused at least 21 deaths. The temperature in Marion registered 94.

An estimated 3,126 children in Marion county were of school age, according to reports of a school enumeration in the office of County Superintendent D. T. Mills. This was an increase of 250 over the preceding year. Rural school children, with the 7,031 in the city of Marion, brought the actual county total to 10,157.

First Marion county wheat began pouring into elevators as farmers, encouraged by the bright sunshine and golden hue of their grain, put combine harvesters into the fields.

Miss Vera Stull told of life at Red Bird Mission near Pineville, Ky. in a talk at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club at Hotel Marion.

Paul D. Smith, Marion attorney and state secretary of a campaign for adoption of the Massachusetts ballot in Ohio, announced selection of a committee to serve with Senator Vic Donahey, honorary chairman. Among those chosen were B. O. Skinner of Marysville, former state director of education, Bruce Burgess of Delaware, Mrs. Earl P. Badgett of Galion, president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs and Clifton Caryl of Marysville.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Friday, July 8, 1927. Ban Johnson resigned as president of the American league because of ill health. The resignation was effective Nov. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Longshore and son of Kokomo, Ind. were visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Longshore of South State street and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Titus of West Columbia street.

John Abel, recently elected state president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, said, in outlining his plans for this year's administration, that one of the main activities would be continuance of the order's campaign for an old age pension system in the state. He said its adoption was certain to take place eventually.

Miss Miriam Cunningham entertained at a six o'clock dinner for Mrs. Loretta Tilton, who was to leave soon to make her home in Maumee, O.

U. S. in Leadership Role

By MARK SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, July 8—Factually, what occurred at Paris last week can be put in a single paragraph:

The United States, through Secretary of State Marshall, had proposed a plan for restoration of economic life in the countries of Europe, with help from the United States. Britain and France wished to go ahead with the plan. Russia tried to intimidate them, Foreign Minister Molotov warned them "against the consequences of such action." To this, Foreign Minister Bevin of Britain replied: "My country has faced grave consequences and threats before, but that is not the sort of prospect which will defer us from what we consider our duty." France joined with Britain and they are going on with the American plan.

Development Interpreted

The meaning and consequences of this step, many and far-reaching, flow from one condition. The step is a recognition that, in the economic and ideological sense, there is not one world but two—one of them headed by Russia, the other, the Western World, symbolized and led by the United States. The step this week is the end of a long and patient attempt by the United States and Britain to get cooperation from Russia. By the step this week Britain and France declare that restoration of the world can wait upon Russia no longer, that they are going ahead with an American plan and are asking the other countries of Europe to collaborate. Restoration is at last to begin, upon an American help and American leadership.

It is futile now to say, and may in fact not be true, that the step ought to have been taken long ago; it may be that by the delay the world has been educated in the difference between the two worlds and their respective systems.

The Background

Not in the spirit of saying the step should have been taken in the beginning, but rather for picturing the background of it, a convenient way is to reprint here parts of an article which originally appeared in this column almost exactly two years ago. The date was July 15, 1945, soon after the end of the war with Germany and at the beginning of the first of the postwar conferences, at Potsdam:

"At Potsdam President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes sit with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill. They sit as representatives of the United States in a conference which amounts to rearranging the world.

"In this rearrangement one task is most urgent and immediate—and also the most important in the long-term sense. It is the simple primitive task of assuring human existence; of reviewing the production of the goods which the peoples of the world eat, wear and otherwise consume.

"For meeting this task, for performing this service throughout the world, America is better equipped than any other country. In differences of view about how to solve the problem, Mr. Truman and Mr. Byrnes speak for the country which has everything the rest of the world needs. America has the food, it has the natural resources, it has the money and credit, it has the machinery of production as a going concern.

Two Different Methods

"In the conferences will be one difference of view towering above all others, embracing all others. This is whether the revival of industry throughout the world shall be on the basis of free enterprise as in the United States, or on the basis of government-owned industry and regimented peoples as in Russia.

"Because of the economic strength of the country Mr. Truman and Mr. Byrnes represent, they should be able to determine the pattern of world revival. We will contribute our resources because we ought to. In contributing them we must accompany them with leadership. We must do more than be merely a gigantic warehouse of indiscriminate philanthropy. We must so use our resources that the peoples of the world can create a life of free men in a free society."

A Needed World Tonic

At long last, after two years of patient endurance of frustration by Russia, we have taken responsibility for the leadership the world hungers for. Britain and France have acted upon our leadership and other countries will. The mere act of decision on our part, the coming to conclusion, will have on other peoples the psychological effect of confusion ended, of men's spirits released, their freedom assured. It will be a psychological tonic as constructive as the material help we give.

Australia Wants Textiles from Japan

By The Associated Press

CANBERRA—Australia's main reparations claims on Japan likely will be for textiles, possibly textile machinery and whaling vessels.

An Australian textile mission is already in Japan.

A government spokesman told correspondents that Australia was not likely to seek any Japanese naval or merchant ships because Australian experts believed they would be more of a liability than an asset. The Australian government's attitude toward reparations, he said, was designed to avoid endangering Japan's economic stability, and to see that claims did not make her a burden to the United Nations.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Josef Explains

"Oh, let us all cooperate,"
Said Josef; "Let's not brawl;
I'm willing to do anything
That will NOT help at all!
"Just let me know how I can aid
And you will see me run
And fetch my super monkey-wrench
To have the 'mostest' fun.

II

"A conference? Ah, that's my dish!
Just call one anywhere
And I will gladly drop around
And give my frozen stare;
I'll pull and tug and tug and pull
With that same vague old smile.
And if I tug the wrong way, well,
Forgive the Russian style.

III

"I'm all for what my allies seek;
I'm for one global plan;
I'm all for unity and such . . .
(And so is your old man!)
I love to see peace take on wings;
For Concord my heart burns
And I will boost it anytime—
If I can call the turns!

IV

"I like to see the world as one
And thinking head to head;
(I don't care what the color is
So long as it is red);
For global unity I stand
And view war with disgust;
I have a lovely motto and
It is, "In ME I trust!"

V

"I'm for, ah, yes, a better world
And I'll do all I can
To get the one requested if
It fits in with my plan;
I'll go all out for world accord
Each ally's hand I'll clench;
(I cannot help it if my hand
Looks like a monkey-wrench.)

VI

"No matter what the project is,
You'll find that Joe is there
With everything a lambkin can
Ask of a great big bear,
So let us join in holding hands—
Sam, Johnny Bull and France—
I merely ask my feet be free
To kick 'em in the pants!"

No More Bears

By TRUMAN TWILL

When things seem tough, think of the cartoonists and the Russian bear. Those boys really have trouble.

They used to represent all Russians—Bolsheviks as they were known then—as frowsy, beady-eyed characters with square beards and partly-concealed bombs whose fuses were burning. This was odious to the Russians and something had to be done about it, especially after red ruin was forgiven and forgotten in the early days of the New Deal. The Russians became respectable not at all the kind of people who threw bombs and toppled governments. The red scare, Washington said, was over.

That was when the bear began to represent Russia—named after Kipling's "bear that walks like a man." It was a handy idea. The bear was big; so was Russia. The bear was clumsy; that was putting it mildly for the Stalin regime. The bear was capable of doing great damage but would not attack unless provoked—good Russian doctrine.

During World War II the cartoonists went to town with the Russian bear. They clinched the symbolism, until Russian bears became as standardized as Uncle Sams, John Bulls, Democratic donkeys and G.O.P. elephants. All the boys had to do when they wanted to draw Russia was reach in the file labeled "Bears" and pull out a bear to suit the occasion.

Then came the blow. The Russian bear that had been friendly, clumsy and imposed upon became sinister and menacing—the opposite of a cartoonist's bear. A nation of people familiar with the stories of amiable bears in Yellowstone simply doesn't find the new ones convincing.

It's as preposterous as Uncle Sam not being virile and upright in his white chin whiskers, as crazy as the thought that John Bull might pass out a handful of dirty postcards to peddle to a stranger; as unthinkable as the G.O.P. elephant losing his ponderosity, or the Democratic donkey showing up with his ears clipped.

International Politics has played a dirty trick on the cartoonists. If they're smart they'll go back to Bolsheviks with bombs and whiskers. They will skip Molotov with his jut-chin and Stalin with his handlebar mustache and pipe. They will shy away from hammers and sickles—and go directly to the point.

For an indefinite number of years to come, gentlemen, Russians are going to be fellows best on mischief. Put away the file marked "Bears." Start accumulating sketches of little men with bent backs, wild hair, beady eyes and clothes that are too big for them. Learn how to conceal bombs under coats, in pockets and behind backs—almost conceal them, that is. The Russians have reverted to type. The friendly bear era is over.

Bulldozers Help Cleanup

By The Associated Press

WARSAW, POLAND—The job of cleaning up the miles of rubble and ruins in Warsaw is getting a big boost.

Several hundred "bulldozers" have arrived in the capital from the United States. Poles estimate each machine replaces 65 men, most of whom have been cleaning up Warsaw by pick and shovel.

Backs Taft Bill

The NEA head urged support of a bill providing federal aid of education introduced by U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), declaring the legislation would furnish "the one financial means that can make education equally available to all."

Mrs. Wanamaker shared the speaking program with Dr. Clyde Hissong, Ohio director of education, who said that "for the most part, the immediate problem of more adequate financing for our schools has been met."

"It is now time for an educational revival in terms of what the schools are for," then reported that the state department of education would assume leadership toward that goal by calling a conference of superintendents and teachers education officials in September.

He said he was "positive" that school administrators need only the impetus of a statewide conference to start an educational and professional revival throughout the state."

Seek Injunction and Judgment

Edward Watters has filed petition in common pleas court against W. E. Budgett, Carrie Budgett and E G Douce, asking temporary injunction and judgment in the amount of $400. The plaintiff claims that the defendants, W. E. and Carrie Budgett have removed a sink and four steel cabinets with a total value of $400 from a building on East Center street owned by Mr Watters, and that they have given the fixtures to the third defendant. The plaintiff further claims that the Budgetts are planning to remove chairs bolted to the floor in an assembly room of the building, and are about to remove all their property from the state of Ohio The plaintiff is asking a temporary injunction against removal of the property from the state and removal of the chairs from the building. Thomas Fetter is attorney for the plaintuff.

The building from which the fixtures were allegedly removed was formerly occupied by the Marion Gospel Center church of which Mr. Budgett was pastor Mr Watters purchased the bulding after the church was disbanded

Displaced Person Bill Has Long Simmered on Legislative Fire

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, July 8—Here is an ABC on the problem of displaced persons.

President Truman yesterday asked congress for a special law to let some of Europe's displaced persons into this country.

James Marlow

This message was a nudge to congress which has been talking about such a law but hasn't voted yet.

About 850,000 displaced persons are living in camps in Germany, Italy, and Austria They have something to eat and a place to stay and that's about all

The camps are run by the American and British armies in their zones of occupation About 550,000 are in American camps

These people, uprooted by the war, were made homeless For various reasons, such as fear, they don't want to return to their own countries.

Opposed To Communism

Are they Communists? Mr Truman said no. He said they're opposed to Communism and don't want to return to their homes in Communist-controlled areas.

This country has a limit, by law, on the number of people who can come here in any one year as immigrants The limit is based on a quota system.

The total quota in any one year is about 154,000 But the number of immigrants coming here in any one year is below the quota total

The quotas were set up in 1924 The greatest number can come from Britain 65,721 a year. But Britons are not displaced persons

The quotas for some countries are far less than for Britain. Greece, for example, has a quota of about 300 and Bulgaria, 100.

But displaced persons coming here—if congress passes a special law for them—would be in addition to the quota set-up

Bill Introduced

Rep Stratton, Illinois Republican, has introduced a bill to let in a total of 400 000 displaced persons, at the rate of 100,000 a year for four years.

Stratton offered his bill in April. Months later a house sub-committee started to study it.

It has been holding hearings for weeks, listening to witnesses talk for and against the bill

The hearings end this week If the members of the sub-committee think the idea is good, they'll tell the full house so

Then it's up to the full house to vote. If the house votes for it, then it is up to the senate to vote.

All this will take time and there isn't much time left. Congress wants to quit for the year before the end of this month

Truman Declines Figure

Although Stratton suggested 400,000 displaced persons be allowed in, Mr Truman didn't mention any figure.

Mr. Truman has talked to congress about this before So yesterday's message was another nudge.

Stratton and Mr. Truman point out that, if displaced persons were allowed in, they'd have to meet the tests any immigrant under the quota system meets.

Example: they can't be criminals, prostitutes, or badly diseased If they're over 16, they must be able to read in their own language And—

A displaced person coping here must be able to support himself or be sponsored by a relative or organization which will see that he does not become a public charge

Mother Saves Child Trapped on Shelf In Elevator Shaft

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 8 — Firemen credited Mrs Ann Flynn, 28, with quick thinking in saving her young daughter, Kathleen, from plunging from the sixth floor to probable death in an elevator shaft yesterday.

Kathleen, who will be three next September, became trapped on a five-inch ledge inside the shaft in the north side apartment building where she lives. The child had dashed ahead of her mother and brother, Mickey, 4, and opened the outer door of the automatic elevator. But before she could open the door to the cage the elevator moved to another floor.

Mrs Flynn screamed for help She then smashed a glass panel near the bottom of the elevator door and grabbed Kathleen's legs and encouraged her to hold tightly to the door knob.

Meanwhile, neighbors had summoned firemen and when they arrived one relieved Mrs. Flynn while others removed hinges from the elevator door.

Kathleen had been on the ledge about 15 minutes before she finally was back in her mother's arms

Chief John Lywitzki of the 20th Battalion, who directed the rescue work, praised Mrs Flynn and said were it not for her quick thinking Kathleen would have fallen six floors to her death

Indonesian Republic Accepts Dutch Terms

By The Associated Press

BATAVIA, JAVA, July 8—The Indonesian republic offered today to accept four Dutch proposals for the interim government and to compromise the fifth—the critical issue of internal policing upon which may depend maintenance of peace in the Indies.

A highly placed Dutch official said the new Indonesian note "contains such evidence of good will that the danger of military action seems successfully to have been avoided."

The note was brought by an Indonesian delegation which arrived by plane today from Joghakarta, the republic's capital. It was a reply to Dutch demands with regard to the interim government of the United States of Indonesia, which is to gain permanent status Jan. 1, 1949.

Previously, qualified Dutch sources had said that should the republic fail to accept in full The Netherlands' plan for the interim government the Dutch army was prepared to move against the republicans

WAGE, PRICE CEILINGS ASKED

National Grange Suggests Labor, Bosses Exercise Restraint To Avoid Slump.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 8—The National Grange suggested today that labor and major industrial firms agree on a program of voluntary ceilings on wages and profits as a step toward lower prices

The farm organization made this proposal as the American Federation of Labor declared that the feast and famine policy of industry has pushed prices and profits to the brink of an economic recession.

The Grange and the AFL laid down their views in separate statements prepared for the joint congressional committee on the economic report. This group is studying suggestions on how to prevent boom and bust swings of the nation's economy

Albert S Goss, master of the Grange told the committee

"If labor and industry in a number of America's largest industrial concerns would agree upon a program in which a ceiling would be placed on wages, and a ceiling on industrial profits, with all margins above such ceilings divided between labor, industrial ownership and the public in the form of lower prices—with a major part of the saving going toward reduction in prices—our inflationary spiral would soon be put in reverse."

Matthew Woll, an AFL vice president, expounded his organization's views He said

"The AFL is convinced that the feast and famine policy of American industry which in general has allowed prices and profits to climb to such unprecedented heights that consumer buying power is dangerously lagging will inevitably lead to economic recession unless corrective action is taken immediately."

Declaring food prices "must come down," Woll added that if they continue upward "rank and file worker pressure for wage increases will be inevitable."

He said wage hikes this spring "have not been accompanied by price increases' and have "served to take up the slack and offset the danger of a sharp collapse of economic activity."

The result, Woll said, 'has been healthy for the economy as a whole."

CINCINNATI MAY CHANGE MUNICIPAL ELECTION LAW

Measure to Abolish Proportional Representation Introduced.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 8—Another proposal to abolish the proportional representation system of electing members of city council may be presented to Cincinnati voters at the November election. Two previous attempts to abolish P R failed.

The change, in the form of an amendment to the city charter, was provided in an ordinance introduced in council yesterday by Mayor Carl W. Rich, a member of council, who said he presented in behalf of that body's Republican majority

Under the proportional representation system, the voter declares his preference for the nineman council through choice votes, first to ninth

Under the proposed ordinance, which was referred to council's law committee after first reading, council members would be elected by ordinary vote on a rotating, non-partisan ballot The amendment would not change the number of councilmen or the city manager form of government, Mayor Rich said.

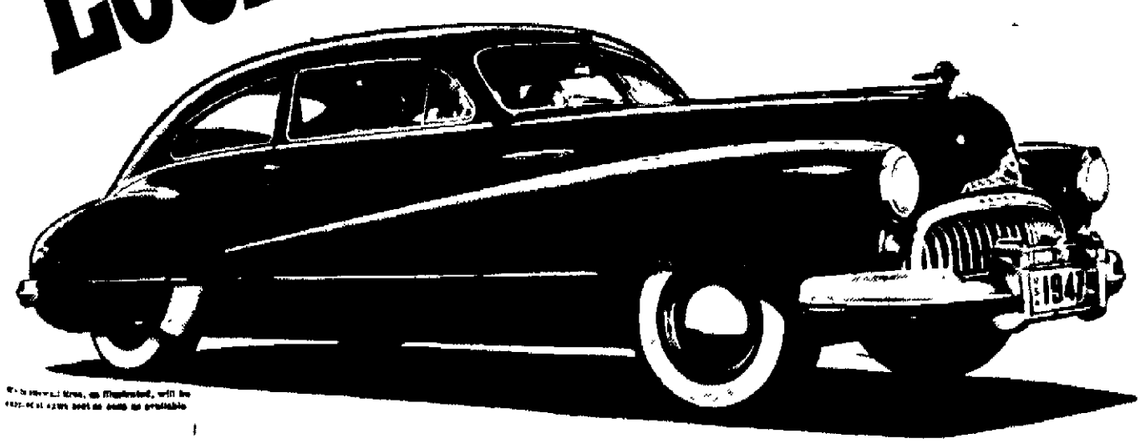
Looks that stay looked at



-and Ability to match

GIVE yourself five seconds, and you know that here's car styling as up to the minute as the time of day.

Spend a few fast minutes to see why — and you spot both smartness right from tomorrow's designing boards and everything that should go with it.

Measure the reach and spread of that Buick bonnet, brim-filled with Fireball power.

Sweep your glance over the broad beam that spells room, the stretch that means easy-riding wheelbase, the size that tells of enough roadweight to end jounce and jitter.

Here, you tell yourself, is something to see. Here are looks to hold the eye for seasons to come — and lively, durable ability to match:

. . . Rich abundance of smooth, hushed Fireball horsepower from a straight-eight kept young and lively by Accurite cylinder finish.

. . . Tireless coil springing on all four wheels, leveling all roads to boulevard smoothness.

. . . Riding poise from two steadying tons of roadweight — ease of handling from balance to draw a ballet dancer's envy. Soft, roomy cushions seating three apiece — finish that's the very last word in richness and taste.

Yes, it takes no time at all to show that you and Buick belong together, should go together steady — so what's holding you back?

After all, we can't do much about getting one to you till you make your wishes plain. You do that simply by placing your order — which will get equal consideration whether or not you have a car to trade.

Marion Woman and 2 Children Leave City On Trip To Japan

A dinner party held last night at Hotel Harding honoring Mrs. Donald E. Eggleston of 183 Bain avenue climaxed a number of parties given recently as a farewell to the guest of honor who left Marion this morning with her three-year-old son, Donald Jr. and 18-month-old daughter, Dianne, on the first lap of their journey to Japan where they will join Major Eggleston.

Mrs. Eggleston will report to Seattle, Wash., where the family of three will board a ship enroute to Japan. The journey will take approximately two weeks.

Made Plans for Year

Plans have been under way for almost a year, Mrs. Eggleston said, but orders from Army headquarters to prepare for the trip weren't received until the first week in May. The port call, naming Seattle, came June 24 by telegram.

Major Eggleston has been stationed near Tokyo since January as procurement and contracting officer for the Far Eastern Air materiel command. Prior to that he was stationed in Manila. The family when reunited will make their home at Tachikawa, Japan, located some 20 miles from Tokyo in a house provided and furnished by the Army. Major Eggleston will be stationed there for at least a year.

The dinner last night was given by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Frericks, brother-in-law and sister of the guest of honor. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fetter, parents of Mrs. Eggleston, with whom she made her home, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Eggleston of 176 Bain avenue, parents of Major Eggleston.

Family Picnic

A family picnic was given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Atkinson and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Austin at the home of the former located at 350 Reed avenue. Other guests in addition to the host and hostess and guest of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Fetter, Miss Martha Jean Austin and Miss Margaret Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Eggleston entertained with a farewell dinner Sunday evening at their home. Also attending were Mrs. Amy McConnell, Mrs. John Hardie and Mrs. Agnes Hardie, from Toledo, Mrs. Esther Brown of Tiro, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Shrout of Marion.

Child Food Problem

Children who dawdle and play over their meals and refuse to eat are a trial to their parents and a menace to themselves for, to be healthy, a child must eat the proper foods.

I would regret it, however, if this statement should cause any mother to become over-anxious about her child's eating habits because I am convinced that this very attitude on the part of mothers is an important cause for the great numbers of poor eaters we find among today's children.

Of course, the main reason for the development of poor eating habits is too much food and foods of the wrong kind, sweets and other highly concentrated foods, such as pies and cookies, which dull appetite for the plain, wholesome milk and vegetables every child should have.

The best rule for mothers seeking to establish good eating habits in their children is "Take it easy." The whole business of eating should be treated in a casual way, and not too much importance given to eating, at least is so far as the mind of the child is concerned. For example, the mother who says, "Now, you are going to eat a great big dinner for Mother today, aren't you?" immediately is issuing a challenge to the child to resist eating.

Children who have good eating habits are usually from homes where the meals are served without any nagging or fussing, and where the child learns to eat like the others just because it is the ordinary thing to do.

There are other things which may be helpful in overcoming the bad eating habits, and here are two most important ones. The child should be served only small portions at a time. A plate piled up with foods of one type or another, discourages the child from eating and takes away his appetite. It is better to have a child ask for more, than to give him too much to start with. Above all, the parents should not be concerned about the child's starving, for he will eat as much as he needs.

It is wise to give a youngster a reasonable amount of time in which to finish his meal and then to take away his plate without any scolding, nagging or punishment. He should be allowed to leave the table with the rest of the family. An important thing is to make sure that the child does not eat between meals.

Once the child has learned to eat properly, he can be given some fruit or crackers in milk in the middle of the afternoon if he needs additional food to keep up his strength and energy.

Of course parents should be a good example for the child. They should realize that good eating habits are more easily caught than taught by their daily example. Therefore, they, too, should eat plenty of vegetables and do so with relish.

It is also important for a "poor eater" to make sure there is no illness such as an infection present in the teeth, tonsils or sinuses which is contributing to the poor appetite.

Flying-Jalopy-in-Every-Garage Manufacturers' Dream Fades

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 8—Chastened manufacturers of personal planes, who at times have dreamed of an early era of "a flying jalopy in every garage," said today they have scaled production programs down to a realistic 2-to-12 planes a day.

They have reassessed prospective buyers' purchasing ability and whittled down their once rapidly mounting inventories.

Two plants which recently shut down are reopening this week to bring to at least 10 the companies in production. Two are still closed temporarily; two others never brought their private plane models out of the research stage; and three companies went into receivership.

Production rates of 10 to 15 planes a day were common, and there was talk of getting it up to 20, when the production peak of 4,671 planes was hit in August, 1946.

That fall, as one manufacturer put it, the industry ran square into the stonewall of buyers' resistance. Undelivered planes crowded storage lots. By December production was down to 1,895 planes. It revived a little but dropped to 1,620 this May, compared with 3,001 in May, 1946, and June output appears to have been even less.

2 Reasons Given

Personal plane builders overestimated the market last year, one source said, for two reasons:

▶They mistook a special demand for a general and continuing one. Of the approximately 35,000 person planes built last year, this source estimated 85 per cent went to operators of flying fields and services and to instructors under the GI training program.

▶The backlog of demand from wartime was more impressive than real.

Thousands said they expected to own their own plane. Then they took a look at their personal budgets, at the prices of the planes and the cost of maintenance and decided that day "was not yet for them."

The civil aeronautics administration estimated in November, 1945, that within 10 years there would be 400,000 civil airplanes and 2,800,000 families able to afford both a plane and an automobile.

The aid coordinating committee, of experts from the state, war, navy and commerce departments and the civil aeronautics commission, told congress private plane buyers should spend from $72,000,000 to $120,000,000 buying 20,000 to 40,000 planes a year.

Too Young or Too Old

The trouble was, industry spokesmen say, that those who could fly and wanted to own a plane were too young to afford either the price or the upkeep, while those well enough off were mostly too old to be interested in learning to fly.

In addition, there were large numbers of war-surplus small training planes. Industry sources say these can be picked up as low as $800, adding that "they'll still be flying 15 years from now." The private plane manufacturers say they have lost a lot of prospective customers at the war surplus auctions.

Personal plane prices run from $2,600 to around $9,000 for "super" four-seaters. These larger planes survived last winter's slump better than the smaller. Corporations and business firms purchase the large ones for company trips.

The Piper Aircraft Corp., of Lock Haven, Pa., which produced 305 personal planes in May, is resuming production this week on a 12-a-day schedule, after a two-week shutdown in June, followed by vacation and inventory-taking over the Fourth of July.

The Republican Aviation Corp., of Farmingdale, Long Island, which made 126 of its 4-place amphibian seabees in May, has halted its production line "very temporarily," a spokesman said.

10 Per Day

It was producing 10 a day before it laid off about 500 workers. Two reasons were given for the temporary shut-down: 1. It agreed to replace tail wheels on 56 planes with a new improved model; 2. About 100 planes piled up on its delivery field when nasty flying weather in June kept buyers from taking delivery.

Republic will resume "very shortly," as soon as these 156 planes are cleared and room for more is made. The spokesman predicted a "steady but not sensational market," with sales still good if not as heavy as they were.

From 10 to 12 ercoupes were coming off the line of the Engineering Research Corp., Hyattsville, Md., each day last fall, and they were talking about 20. Then the company closed from November to March, cleared out the surplus inventory, and reopened at a 5-a-day. A company spokesman said sales were steady at that level.

Aeronca Aircraft Corp. of Middletown, O., had a big inventory in the fall of 1946, but whittled it down. It is now starting work on an Army contract for 439 liaison planes, to be delivered 60 a month. In May it produced a total of 144 of four private plane models.

No Trouble Selling

A spokesman for the Stinson division of Consolidated-Vultee Aircraft Corp., of Wayne, Mich., said they produced 319 Stinsons in May and had "no trouble" selling them.

Fairchild Engineer and Airplane Corp. of Hagerstown, Md., reported production stopped on the F-24 model several months ago, and the plant is now changing over for production of the F-47.

Both the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. of Burbank, Calif., and Douglas Aircraft Co. of Santa Monica, Cal., reported their plans for private planes had never gone beyond the research stage.

Brethren Church Installs Pastor

Rev. Ellis Guthrie, new pastor of First Church of the Brethren, was installed Sunday at the unified morning worship service in the church, and following class sessions of the Sunday school, he and Mrs. Guthrie were welcomed by the congregation at a basket dinner in the church basement dining room. Approximately 80 were served. In charge of the installation was Rev. Orville Noffsinger of Defiance, an elder of the denomination. Following dinner, an informal "get acquainted" program was in charge of Ray Ballinger. Rev. Guthrie began his pastoral duties here officially July 1. He was graduated recently from Bethany theological seminary at Chicago, Ill.

Marion Man Places 4th In Ohio Horseshoe Meet

Paul E. Swartz of Marion hiked his position among state horseshoe pitchers to fourth, in the state tournament at Buckeye Lake July 4-5-6.

Last year he was eighth in the tournament.

Champion was Robert Cash of Cleveland who threw 550 ringers out of a possible 750 and 90 doubles for a total of 1,864 points.

Second place was taken by [illegible] Hanna of Canton with 1,783 points and third was won by Frank Maxwell of Hicksville with 1,706.

Swartz pitched 494 ringers and 156 doubles for a total of 1,674.

Contestants played 15 games of 50 throws each to decide the outcome. Swartz won 14 of the 15 matches he was in.

He is an Erie railroad stenographer.

"Sawed-Off Caesar" of Music Gets Congressional 3rd Degree

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

(unless he decides to ...ne recording business ...nd to stop all radio broadcasting of music a... ...er you have seen on an... ...s of this paper ...made these threats. I think, is an interesting story, too.

The portly little specialist in sounding the sour note sat down in the beam of the three spotlights, planted his two-tone shoes on the carpet and testified that he was boss of every professional musician in the United States and Canada. When he says "frog," they jump. So do the recording companies, the radio networks, the movies, the frequency modulation broadcasters and the television people.

Hate That Record

The sawed-off Caesar said the curse of the professional musician is the phonograph record. Juke boxes are bad enough in saloons and in hotels to provide the music for weddings, he said.

"But now they bury people to juke boxes," he cried.

"Oh now," Mr Petrillo protested Rep. Kearns, who used to be an orchestra leader and who still holds a union card.

"Yes, sir," insisted Little Caesar, smashing his chubby hands on the table. 'Right under the casket they got the juke box."

He has about decided, he said, to allow the manufacture of no more phonograph records. The congressmen mentioned complaints from radio stations, mostly about his union insisting on their hiring musicians they don't need.

Royal Decree

"By ——," replied Petrillo, checking himself with another glance at the microphones, "you fellows brought up this subject. The radio don't like our contracts. It makes complaints. So we're contemplating to allow no station to hire musicians and feed any other station."

"You mean to eliminate all chain broadcasting of music?" demanded Rep. Kearns.

"Yes," snapped Caesar. "They are unsatisfied now. So let 'em be satisfied."

He protested about the spotlights for the news reels making him more cockeyed (his word) than normal. His inquisitors were not sympathetic. The lamps stayed on while the boss musician thought a moment about the radio broadcasters.

Let 'Em Hire Musicians

"Yes, we'll satisfy 'em." He added: "If they want music, let 'em hire musicians to play it and no more of this wire stuff. If they want to hear Mr Toscanini down in Chattanooga say let 'em hire Mr Toscanini to go down there and play."

And furthermore said Petrillo, glaring toward the congressmen he could not see through the lights, let no frequency modulation station think it is going to broadcast regular musical programs.

"This frequency what-ya-call-it is a different business," he said, "and it has got to hire special musicians."

He won't allow Hollywood to sell musical films to television, he said nor will he let the radio folks pipe in music from Europe. Day long the congressmen kept battering at him, one of them called him a monopoly in restraint of trade.

"What's that?" Caesar asked. More later on this because the melody if any lingers on.

DEWEYS IN OKLAHOMA New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and his family leave church services in Sapulpa, Okla., where they are visiting Mrs. Dewey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Hutt (rear).

DEWEY DROPS TALKS TO ATTEND DINNER

By The Associated Press

SAPULPA, Okla., July 8—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey called time out today from a steady round of conferences with southwestern Republican leaders to attend a reception for him and Mrs. Dewey.

The New York governor and his wife, whose parents live in Sapulpa, were to be guests at a civic open house this afternoon.

It was the only public function scheduled for Dewey during his three-day stay here. Most of his waking hours have been spent in meeting and talking with influential party men in connection with his undeclared quest of the GOP presidential nomination next year.

So far, political visitors have brought only optimistic reports and predictions bearing on Dewey's chances of gaining the nomination.

Political observers forecast a similar rosy picture will be painted for Dewey in the Rocky Mountain states. He will reach Salt Lake City Saturday, attend the governors' conference there the fore part of next week, then tour parts of Wyoming, Montana and Idaho before swinging east to Chicago and Michigan.

He would not discuss 1948 plans, but it was understood the governor was assured he would receive a substantial number of Texas delegate votes at the Philadelphia convention. Considerable Texas sentiment for Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio also was reported.

By The Associated Press

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., July 8—A sparrow which tried to build a lighted cigaret into its attic nest was looking for new quarters today.

The cigaret set off the nest and started a blaze in the attic of a two-story house here. Only minor damage was reported but firemen hastily cleared out what was left of the nest.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

AFTER ELEVEN YEARS

Editor of The Sta.: Reading your editorial article "The Tax Bill Again," of your July 4 issue brought to my mind a stanza of a reply to a letter of mine written to a Democrat who once held a very responsible position in the government, which appears to me to be based on sound logic. At any rate if he was living today I was just wondering what would be his views on the subject as it appears to me after being dragged through another world conflict, it would be too theoretical to cantilever into infinity in mortgaging the future and sooner or later it means a financial crash. The letter was written 11 years ago and the stanza reads as follows:

"Like you, I am most anxious about the vast expenditures now being made by the Federal government and the apparently increasing increase in the national debt. Debts either have to be paid or repudiated. I cannot conceive of the United States repudiating, and, therefore, I must try to imagine how long it is going to take and how serious a burden there must be upon industry to pay the debt we are now creating. Such payments at the first instance seem to come from the prosperous upon whom the heaviest taxes are levied but nobody who has followed the shifting of taxation will fail to realize that in the last analysis most taxes fall on those who create wealth. That means people who work, and it looks to me now as though two or three generations of American farmers and workers will earn this debt as a mortgage on their production before it is finally disposed of."

CLAIMS ARMY JUSTICE RIGGED

Senator Says European Command Is "Packing" Courts Martial Against GI's.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 8—Senator Jenner (R-Ind) contended today that "the high command in the European theater is stacking courts against defendants in courts martial."

In a letter to Secretary of War Patterson demanding a full investigation of army military trial procedure, Jenner offered what he said was documentary proof that:

▶"Prisoners are not being permitted to employ either civilian or military counsel of their own choice in the preparation and presentation of their defense."

▶"Every effort is being made to prevent attorneys who were connected with the infamous Lichfield prison case to practice in courts martial in the European theater."

The Indiana senator made public a copy of an informal "routing slip" which he said was signed by Brig. Gen. Cornelius E. Ryan, assistant deputy, military government headquarters for the military government for Germany, and written by Col. Francis H. Venderwerker.

The slip, addressed to the chief of staff, U. S. F. E. T. (presumably U. S. Forces, European Theater), was dated last Oct. 23.

It called attention to the impending arrival of Earl J. Carroll and Thomas Luster Foley, California attorneys, to act as special defense counsel for five prisoners then awaiting trial by general court martial at Frankfurt Am Main.

Jenner identified Carroll as counsel in the court martial of Col. James A. Kilian in the Lichfield (England) prison brutality case.

Carroll, then an army captain, resigned as assistant prosecutor in the Lichfield trials after asserting that a deliberate attempt was being made by army legal authorities to whitewash higher officers in the case. Kilian was later convicted and fined.

The routine slip said that Carroll had received widespread publicity "by violent attacks on the system of military justice" and added "it is understood that Foley is an individual of similar propensities, given to statements and conduct even more violent than those of Carroll."

Galion Couple's Infant Son Dies Suddenly

Special to The Star

GALION, July 8—David Glenwood Snyder, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Snyder of Harding Way east, was stricken suddenly this morning. He was pronounced dead on arrival at City hospital.

About 7 o'clock he began crying, his parents stated, and could not be quieted. The mother thought he had suffered an attack of colic. When a physician was called he could not determine cause of the child's distress, but said he had perhaps suffered a form of convulsion, and thought it necessary to take him to the hospital. An autopsy was to be conducted this afternoon. He was born June 15 in Galion. The mother is the former Miss Miriam Gwinner.

Private funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon in the Volk funeral home by Rev. R. R. Elliker, pastor of First Reformed church. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery, Galion.

Youth Given Suspended Sentence to Workhouse

Thomas W. Smith, 19, of 478 Mary street was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to six months in the workhouse in municipal court yesterday afternoon after pleading guilty to charges of assault and battery filed by his father, Harold Smith of the same address. Both fine and sentence were suspended with the provision that he not appear in court again. Smith was first arrested Saturday afternoon following the melee with his father on North Main street Saturday morning. He spent the weekend in the city prison while the police had him charged with disorderly conduct. The charge was changed to assault and battery which his father filed yesterday.

Patrol Checks Auto Defects

Crew of State Officers Stops Cars at Intersection North of City.

A crew of state highway patrolmen conducted a traffic check on routes 23 and 4 today from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. as part of the statewide safety campaign now being conducted through July 31.

All cars passing through the check zone just north of Marion during that period were stopped and checked for brakes, tires, stop-lights and other items which contribute to the safe operation of an automobile.

Marion city and county officials visited the zone at various times during the check.

The safety campaign conducted by police chiefs and state patrolmen throughout Ohio is staged in an effort to cut down on unnecessary collisions and especially fatal accidents.

According to Lt. S. D. Augenstein of the patrol, a total of 318 accidents were reported last month in the 24 northwestern counties of Ohio, with district headquarters at Findlay. Seven persons were killed in six fatal accidents with 260 persons injured. Written warning for violations were given to 2,377 drivers and 417 arrests were made.

Statistics for the first six months of 1947 are listed below with the figures for the corresponding period of 1946 in parentheses: total accidents for six months, 1,471 (1,166); fatal accidents, 53 (56); persons killed, 71 (66); persons injured, 1,129 (1,070); arrests, 2,133 (1,951); written warnings, 10,738 (6,184).

Excitement of Fishing Kills Bellefontaine Man

By International News Service

BELLEFONTAINE, O., July 8—The excitement of landing a six-pound carp at Indian lake, near Bellefontaine, was blamed yesterday for the death of a 68-year-old retired farmer from Mechanicsburg.

Logan County Coroner A. J. McCracken said that C. L. Gaver died of a heart attack while fishing with his wife from a bank on the shore of the lake.

BUCYRUS ACCIDENTS HIGH

BUCYRUS, July 8—June topped all months of this year for automobile accidents in Bucyrus, Police Lt. Charles Ghist's monthly traffic report showed today. There were 33 accidents during the month, 12 more than during June a year ago. This year's total, too, is far ahead of a year ago. Accidents to date total 145, thirty-five more than last year's total at this time.

Y'S MEN WILL SELL HORSE SHOW TICKETS

Sale Will Start Tonight at Race Lunch Stand.

Funds with which the Y's Men's Service club carries on its civic work will be augmented with the sale of tickets for the third annual horse show to be held Sept. 6 and 7 by the Turf and Tanbark club, it was announced today. The ticket sale will get under way tonight at the county fairgrounds where the club members will have a ticket booth and where they also have the lunch stand concession during the Little Grand Circuit races now in progress.

Forrest Sharrock is chairman of the ticket committee. The club also plans to have a lunch stand at the horse show. Funds realized on the club's many projects are used for civic improvements and activities. Among the projects are the Club Co-Ed for high school boys and girls, shelter houses at the city parks and other activities which add to the pleasure and benefit of the city and residents.

The horse show will be held at the county fairgrounds and will include English and Western horses and ponies, the club announces.

ELECTRONIC "EYES" ASKED FOR PLANES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 8—President Truman's special air safety board proposes that airlines be required to install at once electronic "eyes" which will enable pilots to see obstructions through darkness or cloud.

At the same time, the board also suggested that planes be required to fly at 2,000 feet—twice as high as under present rules—when flying at night or in overcast above dangerous terrain.

Those recommendations composed the third interim report of the five-man board filed with Mr. Truman yesterday. It appeared to have been based largely on information developed during investigation of the Capital airlines crash in the Blue Ridge mountains near Leesburg, Va., on June 13. Fifty persons were killed in this second worst disaster of commercial flying.

The board said the airlines should "be required to install as soon as possible approved absolute terrain proximity indicators operating on electronic principles as a secondary aid to the aneroid altimeters presently required."

Caledonia Revivalist Speaks on "Atonement"

Exellent attendance at the second night of evangelistic meetings last night at the Caledonia Church of Christ was reported by the pastor, Rev. Melvin Keeran. A sermon on "The Atonement" was given by the evangelist, Rev F. S. Dowdy of Lancaster, and Mrs. Evelyn Lloyd Griffith of Paris, Ky., led singing. The meetings will continue through July 20 with services at 8 each night except Saturday, and are open to the public, Rev. Keeran stated.

In his message, the evangelist spoke of sin as "the transgression of God's law," and he enlarged on the thought that "there is no law, either statutory or divine, that does not carry with it penalty to those who disobey."

Much Ado About Pigs Snarls City's Traffic

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, July 8—The brakes on the truck, laden with pigs, failed. The truck hit three other cars and was itself wrecked.

Some of the 59 pigs ambled out of the smashed truck and dashed wildly up and down Liberty avenue in downtown Pittsburgh early.

Mistaking the squeals of the pigs for the cries of injured children, three ambulances and two police cars hurried to the scene.

It was an exciting time but only two persons were hurt and they didn't have to stay at the hospital.

Ervin C. Miller of Leetonia, O., truck driver, escaped injurk.

METHODIST BUDGET

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 8—The Methodist church received and expended $152,532,706, the largest amount in its history, during the 1946-47 fiscal year, Dr. Thomas B. Lugg, treasurer of the general commission on world service and finance, reported last night at the opening session of a three day meeting of the commission.

Lewis Signs Coal Peace Pact

covers the soft coal miners "during such time as such persons are willing and able to work." This immunizes the union from Taft-Hartley act penalties for work stoppages in violation of contract.

5. Withdrawal of no-strike clauses and penalties for illegal stoppage from all local and district contracts.

6. The union abandons—for the year—its old demand for recognition of foremen and supervisory employes.

7. Federal mine safety standards will apply in all affected mines, replacing a variety of state safety codes.

8. The check-off of union dues and initiation fees, with employers helping the union get signatures from individual workers authorizing the payroll withholding.

Coal Prices Up

Coal prices are due to go up between 67 cents and $1 a ton.

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corporation, who helped break the contract deadlock a week ago by capitulating to Lewis' full wage demands, hailed the new pact as likely to result in "industrial peace in the bituminous industry for a long time to come."

Under the contract ratified last night by the union's 200-man policy committee, the miners now will get $13.05 for an eight-hour day.

He has been receiving $11.85 for nine hours underground. By absorbing former overtime rates for two of those nine hours the new terms hike the basic hourly pay 44½ cents—from $1.18½ to $1.63.

Lewis also won a 10-cent royalty for the union welfare and retirement fund, capable of yielding more than $50,000,000 annually if all the operators accept the contract. The collection has been five cents a ton, or half that amount.

Safety Code Accepted

The contract provides for operator acceptance of the federal mine safety code—superseding the varied regulations of the bituminous coal states.

A last-minute legal snag in writing the contract almost lost the race against time—and made a brief shutdown in most of the industry inevitable. It involved Lewis' determination to free his miners of strike liabilities under the newly-enacted Taft-Hartley labor law.

The contract-drafters compromised, according to industry reports on a clause stating the miners would work when "willing and able."

In return Lewis receded from his eleventh hour demand that a United Mine Worker representative — presumably himself — be chairman of the three-man board of trustees for the huge welfare fund, and that the chairman be given veto power.

U.S. TO KEEP B-29'S IN EUROPE AND ASIA

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 8—The United States is stepping up the frequency of its B-29 training missions to oversees theaters to the point where Superfortresses will be on hand in Europe and the Orient most of the time.

This was indicated today by Maj. Gen. Clements McMullen deputy chief of the strategic air command, during an interview.

The general said that the big bombers will make overseas training flights a little oftener than once a month. Allowing for time spent in operational training in the occupation zones after the arrival of each mission, this suggested that the presence of the strategic bombers in those areas would be virtually continuous.

While this schedule is aimed at for the summer months, bad weather may hold down flights during the winter, McMullen explained.

The general's comments were in response to inquiries about a Frankfurt dispatch reporting that 22 of the giant bombers had arrived in Germany and that five others were enroute. The number indicated that virtually a full group of B-29's were making this training mission less than two weeks after the departure from Germany of a squadron of nine.

Certain Senate O.K. Of Forces Merger Seen

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 8—Republican leaders today claimed certain senate approval for the plan to unify the army, navy and air forces despite protests that it would "create a vast new military empire."

Senator Gurney (R-SD), floor manager for the legislation, told a reporter:

"I'm certain we will pass it. Maybe on Wednesday but certainly by Thursday."

Senator Wherry (Neb), the Republican whip, agreed but added "there may be some amendments."

CROP 50 PER CENT OFF

By The Associated Press

FREMONT, O., July 8—County Agent B. W. Reading estimated today that Sandusky county's total crop yield would drop to 50 per cent of normal this year. He attributed the projected loss to heavy rains and "extremely poor drainage."

AUSTRIA JOINS PARLEY

By The Associated Press

VIENNA, July 8—The Austrian cabinet accepted today an invitation to the European reconstruction conference opening in Paris Saturday. A government spokesman said the Austrian delegation, as yet unnamed, would leave for the meeting "before the end of the week."

State Officer Joins Search in Tenn. Cave

By The Associated Press

SHELLMOUND, Tenn., July 8—State Safety Commissioner Lynn Bomar arrived here today to help ascertain what happened to 35-year-old John T. Hurn, who has been reported missing in Nickajack cave for a week.

Bomar and a crew of patrolmen came to the cave shortly after midnight after a 10r-mile trip from Nashville. He said he would give "all possible assistance" to search parties.

Hollins Hurn said his brother, an ex-GI and former night club operator from Nashville, became lost in the cave a week ago today while seeking another entrance. Since that time the bat-infested cavern has been searched time and time again by parties picking their way over the hill and crevice dotted cave floor.

Members of some of the searching parties have advanced the theory that Hurn may be in one of the deep pools of water in the cave.

INDIANS CONTINUE RIOT

By The Associated Press

CALCUTTA, July 8—Continued Hindu-Moslem rioting claimed three more lives today, bringing the official toll of casualties since early yesterday to 28 dead and more than 141 injured. Unofficial reports of the casualties ran as high as 50 dead and more than 200 hurt.

JAP SENTENCED

By The Associated Press

YOKOHAMA, July 8 — Ex-pugilist Nobushiro Miyakawa, called the "Yankee Clipper" by American internees, drew the longest term among five Japanese sentenced to a total of 49 years for mistreating allied prisoners of war. Miyakawa received 22 years for habitually beating Americans at Hakodate prison camp, Hokkaido.

MRS. SARAH JENKINS OF ROSE AVE. DIES

Ill Six Weeks; Funeral Set for Thursday.

Mrs. Sarah Ellen Jenkins, 75, wife of Reas C. Jenkins of 267 Rose avenue, died in her home at 1:20 a. m. today. She had been ill six weeks.

Born Nov. 27, 1871, in Coshocton, she was a daughter of James and Alcinda Bailey Pickrell, natives of Virginia. Her marriage to Mr. Jenkins was June 2, 1898, in Urbana. A resident of Marion five years, she came here from LaRue. She was a member of Fite Memorial Baptist church.

Surviving with her husband are two sons and two daughters, James C. Jenkins of the Rose avenue address, Mrs. Harold Smith of near Marysville, Mrs. Donald Johnson of near Marion, and Omar W. Jenkins of 392 Silver street, 11 grandchildren, two great grandchildren, and a brother, George Pickrell of Urbana.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 3 p. m. in First Wesleyan Methodist church by Rev. Dennis Matherlee, pastor. Burial will be in Price cemetery in Union county. The body was to be taken from the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue to the Jenkins home where friends may call after 7:30 tonight until 2:30 p. m. Thursday.

PETRILLO BELIEVED OUTSIDE LABOR LAW

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 8 — Two Republican lawmakers said today the new Taft-Hartley labor act is powerless to block James C. Petrillo if he decides finally to ban radio network musical programs and phonograph recordings by his union musicians.

The president of the AFL American Federation of Musicians first told a house labor subcommittee that "as of now" those are his plans for next year.

After a luncheon recess, however, he said "I'm in hopes that somewhere along the line we won't have to do the things I said we'd have to do this morning."

Both Chairman Kearns (R-Pa.) and Rep. Nixon (R-Calif), a subcommittee member, expressed the opinion that the Taft-Hartley act will not "stop Petrillo from going ahead with this if he wants to."

But Kearns told reporters the American public is "entitled to hear" records and radio musical shows and added:

"We will certainly recommend additional legislation on anything that effects the American way of life as this does."

One Killed, Two Hurt As Train Hits Auto

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 8—A Marine private was killed and two others, including his girl companion, were injured today when a Pennsylvania railroad freight train smashed into their automobile in suburban Maple Heights.

Pfc. Frank E. Sweeney, 18, of New York, who was on furlough visiting an aunt, was killed, while Miss Delores Fink, 19, of Cleveland, was reported in critical condition in a hospital. Eugene Gilbert, 24, of suburban Garfield Heights, was reported in fair condition.

KILLED IN EXPLOSION

By The Associated Press

LORAIN, O., July 8 — Frank Bennett, 30, was killed in an explosion at the National Tube Co. while attempting to light an oven, the company reported today.

WORK HOURS VOTE SET

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 8—The city council last night authorized a public vote at the Nov. 4 general election on the proposed 40-hour work week for members of the Columbus fire department. At present, firemen are required to work 144 hours every 15 days.

ARMY DOCTOR DIES

By The Associated Press

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 8—Brig. Gen. Edward Lyman Munson, 78, retired assistant surgeon general of the army and inventor of the "Munson shoe" and other articles of army equipment, died at Grace hospital here late yesterday following a brief illness.

Newark Woman Killed In W. Va. Car Crash

By The Associated Press

WILLIAMSTOWN, W. Va., July 8—A two-car collision in this Wood county town caused the death of Mrs. Iva Conn, 42, of Newark, O., and injury to three other persons, Police Chief R. C. Henn reported.

Mrs. Conn died of a fractured skull and other injuries yesterday in a Marietta, O., hospital, to which her 19-months-old granddaughter, Mary Christine Orwig, and Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Randolph, 82, of Zanesville, O., were taken with less serious injuries.

Also injured, Henn reported, was Dr. George H. Bateman, prominent Williamstown physician and surgeon, who was driving alone in the other automobile. He suffered deep scalp lacerations and loss of blood and was reported in fair condition.

William Conn, husband of the dead woman, escaped injury, Henn said. The family was enroute to Berea, Ritchie county, W. Va., where they were called by the illness of an aunt of Mrs. Conn.

Magda Lupescu Reported Slightly Improved Today

By The Associated Press

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 8—Magda Lupescu was reported slightly stronger today, and friends believed she might live to see her marriage to former King Carol of Romania formally approved by a Brazilian court.

Her condition still was grave, however. Carol was at her bedside almost constantly.

The Brazilian seventh court probably will hear testimony today from witnesses who attended the ceremony in Mme. Lupescu's hotel suite in which Carol and his mistress signed a marriage contract. The court's approval was expected within a few days upon completion of technical legal procedure.

Bandleader's Love Cools As Music Grows Hotter

By The Associated Press

HACKENSACK, N. J., July 8—The wife of orchestra leader Charley Spivak said she had no quarrel with his music-making but she told Advisory Master in Chancery N. Demarest Campbell yesterday, his "love cooled as his music grew hotter."

She was granted a divorce on grounds of desertion and awarded custody of their two children, Joe Allen, 11, and Stephen Glenn, 3, after testifying that the bandleader left her July, 1944.

EXPECTANT MOTHER KEEPS BEDSIDE VIGIL

Watches Over N. Y. Patrolman Husband, Wounded in Gun Fight

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 8—A [illegible]-old expectant mother kept a bedside vigil today at Roosevelt hospital where her patrolman husband lay in serious condition from bullet wounds received in a gun duel aboard a crowded bus with a robbery suspect whom he killed.

The woman is Mrs. Viola Murphy, whose husband, Daniel, was shot in the abdomen in the exchange of fire with Joe N. Fernandez, 21, of Tampa, Fla.

Scene of the duel was a bus from Times Square aboard a 10th street bus loaded with 40 passengers. Thousands of persons in the noon-hour mid-Manhattan crowds were attracted to the scene.

One of the passengers was used as a shield by the robber after he dashed into the bus while fleeing from Murphy. The passenger was not hurt.

A $10,000 nine-karat diamond ring and two wedding rings in the robber's pocket were identified by two jewelry stores as having been stolen from their establishment shortly before the shooting.

WEATHER GOOD TO CORN IN CRAWFORD

Farm Leaders See Possible 85 Per Cent Yield.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, July 7 — Crawford county's corn crop which had been estimated to yield but around 50 per cent of normal today is being estimated at 85 per cent of normal.

Farm leaders and observers reported today that favorable weather conditions of the last two weeks aside from heavy rainstorms last Friday and Sunday, have permitted farmers to plant beyond expectations.

With good autumn weather County Agent Russell L. Miller believes that the yield will be 85 per cent. Meanwhile some farmers are continuing to plant buckwheat in place of their lost oats crop.

SAFETY PIN

...te...day. After a local physician was called arrangements were made to take the child to Columbus. The parents drove from Brush Ridge in their own automobile and were met at the Columbus city limits by the state highway patrolmen who escorted them to the hospital.

According to Mrs. Strzelecki, the pin was imbedded in the child's throat about half an inch. The pin was first closed and then dropped down the child's throat, being removed later. It was expected Marti would be released home either tomorrow or Friday. Sulfa and penicillin are being administered and the child is being kept under anaesthetic to prevent possible irritation to the throat.

Mr. Strzelecki is a steam shovel operator employed by Ralph Gaster. He served in the glider infantry during the war and was wounded during the Normandy invasion. Mrs. Strzelecki is the former Dorothy Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Warner of Morral.

The dying babies were found at 7:45 p. m. in their cribs by Student Nurse Marian Silleck after she had checked the room approximately 10 minutes earlier and found them sleeping.

Stark County Coroner E. C. Reno returned a verdict of homicide and said crushing force had been applied to the sides of the babies' heads.

Police Chief Stanley W. Switzer has stood steadfastly upon his belief that older children accidentally dropped the infants.

GALION ROTARY URGES POWER INCREASE

Seeks City Action To Avoid Future Shutdowns.

Special to The Star

GALION, July 8 — A resolution voted by the Galion Rotary club at the regular meeting Monday night at Hotel Tri-State, urges city council to take swift decisive action to secure extra electric power so that costly shutdowns of Galion factories will not recur and also to lay plans for an expansion of Galion's electricity producing power for the future.

The resolution was made after a spirited discussion by club members of Galion's present power crisis. Galion's large factories were in their second week of vacation for men working where heavy power-driven machinery is in use.

A spokesman of the Rotary club said that outside power should be secured on a temporary basis and be distributed through the Galion Municipal Light and Power plant where extensive improvements last week and this week has caused the reduction of power to Galion factories.

Walter S. Goshorn new president of the club assumed his duties and named committee heads to serve for the year. During the business session the club spent considerable time discussing the budget. Two guests, Carl Block of Columbus, and Carl Albright of Hanes City, Fla., a former Galion resident, were present.

BRUINS TAKE LIMA TERRIERS INTO CAMP, 8-0, AND 5-4

Balk with Sacks Filled in Last Of 9th Give Cubs Second Win

By DON C. BURTON

"A team that keeps fighting will get the breaks" is an adage as old as sports.

This truth was plainly demonstrated at Lincoln park last night before 1,497 baseball fans. After winning the seven-inning curtain raiser with Lima, 8-0, behind the four-hit hurling of Ed Wilowski, the Marion Cubs got a break to win the full frame nightcap, 5-4, when the Lima pitcher, Mike Blyzka, balked with the score tied, two out and the bases full in the final session.

After winning two games last night while Zanesville was idle the Cubs moved up to within three and one-half games of the Dodgers. The fur should really fly the next three days as the fighting Marion club moves into the "Bums" ballwick for a three-game series. Manager Burbrink has his two top pitchers ready for the league leaders.

Jim Sabens with four days rest will start tonight and Bill Rosin will have the same rest by tomorrow night. John Edington is slated for mound duty in the third game Thursday.

Road Trip Crucial

With the team leading the loop after games of July 20 to be host to the annual All-Star game the present road trip of the Cubs is crucial. Three games at Zanesville, four at Newark including a Sunday doubleheader puts the Cubs in a tough spot where they have always been best.

After the seven-game trip the Cubs will return to the green pastures of Lincoln park Tuesday to play the Dayton Indians for three days and after another day of rest take on the Springfield Giants in threee games before the All-Star deadline.

The Cubs won the lid lifter last night with a run in the third inning when three straight walks and Dwight Maxhimer's infield out produced a run without a hit. They added seven runs in the sixth session on four hits including doubles by Jim Forbes, Roy Hollingshead and Dwight Maxhimer.

Lima Runners Idle

No Lima base runner got past second base on Ed Witowski and only two go that far. Earl Tennant got to the middle station on an infield out following his single in the third. The other was a fluke double by Kowalski in the sixth. With Wally Rasmussen camped under his long pop fly to left in that inning it hit the light wire and dropped away safely. The big bespectacled Marion right hander failed to give up a base on balls while whitewashing the Terriers.

It was the third shutout game pitched by a Cub hurler in a week as Sabens and Lawrence rang up the goose eggs against Newark last week.

The visitors stopped the shutout early against "Jitts" Lawrence in the second game. Four straight hits after two were out got one run across. The Cubs went ahead in the second on a hit by Burbrink and an error on Shuford's bounder. Rasmussen's sacrifice which also went for an error to load the bases and Forbes single which Tennant threw wild allowing Shuford to score as well as Burbrink. Rasmussen was thrown out at the plate trying to tally also.

Lima Ties Score

The Terriers tied the score in the fourth on a single by Jim Grimes on which Dwight Maxhimer out-smarted himself. Big Max faked as if he had missed the rolling ball in the outfield and Grimes broke for second. Then, having the runner trapped, Max threw the ball wild to second base allowing Grimes to reach that station from where he scored on a single by Earl Tennant.

The Terriers took a two-run lead in the eighth. Bob Huddleston walked and was sacrificed to second. After Don Slater popped out Jack Maisch drove a triple to left for a run and then scored on a single by Otto Spevak.

The Cubs got one run back in the bottom half of the inning. Burbrink again started with a single and after Shuford flied sharply to left went to second as Wally Rasmussen grounded to first. Spevak, Lima first baseman tried to pick Nelse off second after the play and threw wild, the Marion skipper going to third. With two away, Jim Forbes hit to Earl Tennant at short who fumbled allowing Burbrink to score.

Tie Before Balk

Marion tied the score in the ninth before Blyzka's fatal balk. Hollingshead singled sharply to center and was sacrificed to second by John Smith and went to third on a wild pitch. After Bobzean walked. Dwight Maxhimer singled cleanly to center, with Gene, who had an injured leg stopping at second. Burbrink forced Bobzean at third. Shuford loaded the bases with a single.

With Wally Rasmussen at bat, Manager Lefty Settlemire protested a called third ball.

The Lima skipper was banished from the game after too much squawking and on the next pitch after the Lima manager left the park his pitcher balked to allow Maxhimer to score the winning run. Blyzka first took a stance to pitch from the shoulder and then realizing the bases were full and he could take a full windup he started to change his stance and moved his left foot first and the umpires called the balk and things were over for the night as Lima had lost seven straight games at Lincoln park this year without winning once.

Burbrink Loses Top Batting Spot But Leads in 5 Fields

Although Nelson Burbrink, Marion pilot catcher, took undisputed command of five specialized hitting leads in the Ohio State league, he surrendered his hitting supremacy to Bob Verrier, Richmond third baseman.

Figures compiled by the Howe News Bureau show Verrier hiked his average four points to an even .400 while Burbrink slipped back to the runnerup slot at .394, a four point drop.

Both are well to the fore of Muncie's Lloyd Foster with .375 and Rex Carr of Richmond at .359, who rank third and fourth respectively among the circuit's clouters.

Burbrink's five top marks include 49 runs countered, 76 hits, 112 total bases, 6 homers and 39 runs driven across the payoff hassocks.

What other honors remain are divided between Lima's Jack Maisch and Don Slater, each with 18 doubles, outfielder Hopkins of Newark with 10 triples and Bob Bartholomew of Zanesville with 23 stolen bases.

As each has won seven games and lost two, Newark's Bob Brunner and Ken St. Pierre of Richmond are tied for the hurling laurels. But Sanford Lambert, Zanesville lefthander, has notched the most victories, 10, while losing four.

Tribe Defeats Giants, 9-2 In Only Other Loop Tilt

By The Associated Press

The Marion Cubs moved to within three and a half games of first place Zanesville in the Ohio State baseball league with a doubleheader victory over the Lima Terriers Monday night.

The Dayton Indians with the benefit of Al Miller's four hit pitching trounced the Springfield Giants 9-2 at Springfield.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO — Anton Raadik, 185, Estonia, knocked out Richard Hammon, 167, Chicago, 2.

BALTIMORE—Roy Williams, 157, New York, outpointed Frank Lacey, 160½, Baltimore, 10.

NEWARK, N. J.—Doc Williams, 161½, Mahwah, stopped Henry Brumm, 158½, Buffalo, N. Y., 7.

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass. — Dino Bielo, 125, Canton, O., stopped Billy Lima, 122, Havana, Cuba, 6.

"NO HIT" PITCHER'S ARM FAILS. Carl De Rose, of the Kansas City Blues baseball team, who pitched the American association's first "no hit-no run" game against Minneapolis on June 25, packs his bags as he leaves for California for treatment of his throwing arm which has gone "dead." He holds a trophy given him by the American association baseball writers, and Kansas City fans presented him a $2,000 check in appreciation of his feat. De Rose says he'll be out of baseball "for a while."

All-Star Game Set for July 29

Marion Fans To Get Chance To Win OSL Season Tickets in Picking Team.

The fourth annual Ohio State league All-Star game will be held July 29 in the city leading the league after games of July 20.

The All-Star team will be chosen by the league sport writers and will be announced July 17. As before The Star is cooperating with the league in a contest among fans to pick the team nearest the one chosen by the writers. All players in the loop are eligible to be chosen. Should any member of the host team be selected on the All-Star group he will be replaced by the player next in the voting for that position.

Two tickets will be given to Marion fans for the selections nearest the official selection of the writers.

The first prize will be a pass for two to all games this season and all of next year. The second prize will be a pass for two for the remainder of this season.

So baseball bugs get busy and pick your team and send to The Star on the ballot below not later than July 15.

Major Loop Executives To Watch Baseball Game

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 8 — With the 1948 All-Star game awarded to the St. Louis Browns, major league club owners and officials settled back to watch a ball game today after a series of executive sessions.

Pacific Coast league bids for recognition as a third major league on a "provisional" basis were referred yesterday to the executive council which will consider exemption of the coast players from the annual player draft for the next "three to five years."

FINALS PLANS TO BE MADE TOMORROW IN JR. BASEBALL LEAGUE

Meeting at Dugout To Assign Boys to Teams, Organize Loops.

The time: 1 p. m. tomorrow. The place: the Legion Dugout on South High street. The reason: to play baseball.

Any boy who did not reach his sixteenth birthday by the first of 1947, can by following the above directions, become eligible to play with a team in the city junior baseball league now being formed.

H. George Roest is in charge of organizing the league, representing Bird McGinnis post of American Legion. Joseph Petrich, supervisor of city parks, is working in close cooperation with him.

Preliminary plans for the city league, which should be made up of at least eight teams, call for the Legion to purchase balls and bats and for the city recreation commission to make available catching equipment and diamonds.

Yesterday every section of Marion was represented in a turnout of about 25 boys. Tomorrow the league organizers are confident that more than four times this number will be present.

Besides the Marion boys at the meeting some from Pleasant township showed up. A provision may be made so that Marion county boys can participate.

At tomorrow's meeting Ralph Shick, Marion Lincoln-Mercury dealer, will show the movie "Play Ball, Son." Ford Motor Co distributes the film. It is used to build national interest in juvenile baseball.

Joe Roseberry Attends Marion-Lima Twin Bill

Joe Roseberry, Marion boy now pitching for the Winston-Salem Cardinals of the Carolina league, was a spectator at the Cub-Lima doubleheader last night.

Joe injured his shoulder in a recent game and while resting made a trip home.

He said that Leo Perini, former Marion outfielder had jumped the Winston-Salem team and gone to his home in Detroit. Roseberry now has a record of nine wins and two losses in the Carolina loop.

Softball Schedule

TUESDAY

Co Ms vs DeMolay, M P S., K'ingel and Halfhill Moose vs Schlairet, Garfield, King and Spurlock; Legion vs Tony Imp., McKinley Reid and Conkle, Standard Oil vs McAllister, Crystal, Lehner and Dulin.

Industrial League will not play because of Industrial Plant "Shutdown" for vacation of employes. Schedule will be resumed July 17 and 18.

Local Legion Nine To Face Team Batting .337 in Contest at Mansfield Tomorrow

By GEORGE ROEST

When Jack Owens, Marion junior Legion pitcher, walks to the mound tomorrow afternoon at Mansfield, and gets his signal from catcher Doug Knisley, he will wind up to start chucking against a team that in its first eight games posted a team batting average of .337. Game time is 5.

Owens who in 10 innings of pitching against junior Legion opponents has allowed only four hits will see if he can skid this average.

When the local boys go to bat they will probably face Lou Gregorio who has been credited with four of the Mansfield wins and 38 strikeouts in 31 innings of mound duty.

Marion Legion Coach Nelson Irvin won't be surprised if his boys give the Mansfield ace a hard time. Although his team has played only twice against junior opponents they have been taking on bigger game in practice affairs, and treating them rough. Members of the Blue Birds and Independents can testify to this.

They were defeated by the Blue Birds once, then turned the tables, and twice against the Independents the score was tied at sundown.

William Orcutt, manager of the Marion outfit, is making plans whereby a group of Marion fans will follow the team to Mansfield to back them up from the sidelines.

Algiers Top Winner At Grand Circuit Opener

By The Associated Press

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., July 8—Algiers, winner of the $50,000 Golden West trot at Hollywood park, added the $5,000 Goldsmith Maid trot to his laurels last night at the opening of Grand Circuit racing at Saratoga raceway.

Algiers, owned by E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill., and driven by Harry Fitzpatrick, took both heats of the opening night feature and posted a new track record of 29 seconds for the last quarter in winning the first heat by a nose from Don Scott. He was clocked at 2:07 2-5 for this heat.

STEELS LEAD SLIGHT UPSWING IN MARKET

NEW YORK, July 8—Steels led another selective upswing in today's stock market, following signing of the coal wage contract, but there was little follow-through and many leaders were indifferent.

Reinvestment demand and short covering again provided the principal trend props. Hopes that a new tax relief law would go through inspired some purchasing. Dividends and earnings were helpful.

New 1947 highs were recorded for Chrysler, Westinghouse, Texas Pacific Land Trust and Allied Chemical. In front were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Pacific, Illinois Central, General Motors, Publicker Industries, Schenley, North American and American Smelting.

Occasional laggards included American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, Woolworth, U. S. Rubber, Deere, Caterpillar Tractor, Douglast Aircraft, Dow Chemical, J. C. Penney, Great Northern Raiway and Standard Oil (NJ).

RECEIPTS FALL OFF AT MARION AUCTION

Receipts at the weekly auction at the Producers stockyards here yesterday totaled 367 head, offered by 321 consignors from Marion and surrounding counties. The cattle market was about steady with the previous week, quality and finish considered. A large number of cows were offered.

The calf market was some stronger than last week but the demand was not too great. The lamb run was the lightest it has been in several weeks. Feeder pigs and shoats were few in number, the market consisting chiefly of market hogs and roughs.

Prices were as follows:

Hogs 405; 140-160, 23.00; 160-180, 24.75; 180-250, 25.10; 250-300, 23.00@24.10; roughs 18.00 down; stags 14.00@16.00; feeder pigs per cwt. 21.00@26.25.

Sheep and lambs 116; top lambs 23.25; medium lambs 17.00@20.00; culls and outs 14.00@16.00; aged sheep for slaughter 4.00@6.00; breeding ewes, none offered.

Calves 233; choice 22.75@23.50; good 20.00@22.00; medium 13.00@20.00; outs 16.00 down.

Cattle 214; good steers and heifers 25.00@25.00; medium steers and heifers 21.00@24.00; common steers and heifers 16.00@20.00; butcher cows 14.75@18.50; canner and cutter cows 8.00@14.00; bulls 13.00@17.00; milk cows, by head, 70.00@151.00.

START WORK TO SHIFT OLENTANGY COURSE

DELAWARE, O., July 8—Preliminary work on the new pilot channel to be used for rerouting the Olentangy river through the new Delaware flood control dam has been started and the actual changing of the river will be undertaken some time after July 15.

Crews are now engaged in building a temporary road from the west section to the area just north of the main structure which is now about 80 per cent completed. The new channel will be opened after the temporary road is completed so the equipment can be moved down to the river.

The entire dam is erected east of the present channel and will necessitate changing the river course about 100 feet to carry it through the structure. The pilot channel will be approximately 300 yards north of the main dam with a temporary dam constructed to close the natural water course.

The dike which runs parallel to route 23 will extend to the west abutment across the 100-foot ravine through which the Olentangy runs. The fill will start immediately after completion of the pilot channel.

Programs on the Air

Recent state department sponsored short-wave broadcasts to Latin America of ABC's "Greatest Story Ever Told" programs were extravagantly praised by South American listeners, according to their radio executives.

• • •

Billy Rose, triple-threat of the show business, is being bombarded with requests to deny or confirm rumors that he's buying into the ABC network . . . When velvet-voiced Patti Clayton made her debut on CBS' "Club 15" last Tuesday, she received a 10-yard long "Good Luck" chain letter from her 32 fan clubs . . . Rumors are hopping on the the west coast that Dennis Day will call it a day with the Jack Benny show. Jack Benny was not available for comment . . . According to a trade paper the plan to pit Paul Winchell, the young talented ventriloquist, against the veteran Edgar Bergen was shelved . . . During rehearsal breaks on "The Life of Riley," John Brown, the program's friendly undertaker, noticed that Bill Bendix wasn't getting any results from his diet. "I don't expect to," explained Bendix. "I'm only dieting between meals." . . . It's a long-shot that Margaret Truman, the President's daughter, will be featured on a radio show this fall. Many discount such rumors because of the coming presidential conventions and election. In addition, Miss Truman has often repeated she won't make any definite commitments until after the elections.

PICNIC REPORTS GIVEN AS COMMITTEES MEET

St. Mary Parish Outing To Be Held at Fairgrounds.

Reports on progress of plans for the annual picnic and outing to be sponsored by St. Mary parish Sunday, July 27, at the Marion County fairgrounds, were made at a meeting of chairmen and committees last night in Moura hall.

Festivities will get under way and the grounds will be open at noon, it was announced. A full program of entertainment and recreational events is being arranged for both children and grownups and there will be a midway of games and concessions.

Proceeds from the various booths will be for St. Mary's athletic fund. Tables will be available for picnic parties and there also will be a lunch booth. The outing is being planned for all members and friends of the parish and families.

Final reports will be given and details completed at the next meeting of the committees July 21.

Two Democratic Clubs Hold Joint Meeting

A social hour was combined with business at a joint meeting of the Marion County Democratic club and the Women's Democratic club last night at Greenwood Inn. The meeting was sponsored by the Women's club and was attended by approximately 60 members and guests. A buffet supper was served. Speaker for the evening was Mrs. Lena Garretson Siferd of Lima, a past president of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio and district committeewoman. Her subject was "Present Day Conditions."

Plans were discussed for the state meeting of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio to be held here in September. Mrs. Harry Armstrong of LaRue, president of the women's organization in the county, presided. Out-of-town guests and candidates were introduced. A joint picnic will be held Aug. 4 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Dune on Mt. Vernon avenue.

D. C. Ridgway, Assignee, for the benefit of all of the Creditors of Clifford Richards and Jessie Richards.

Case No. 17182.

June 24,July 1,8,1947.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

BID FOR SEWER CONSTRUCTION

Sealed bids for the construction of sewers in Bonnett Street, Nye Street, Glad Street and Flea Avenue will be received by the Safety-Service Director of The City of Marion, Ohio, at his office in the City Building, until 12 o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 22nd day of July, 1947, and at that time and place will be publicly opened and read.

The work for which bids are invited consists of furnishing the material and doing the work necessary for the construction of approximately 10750 linear feet of 6" to 15" diameter vitrified shale pipe sewers, together with manholes, catch basins, repaving and other appurtenant work.

Copies of the advertisement, information for bidders, estimated quantities, contract, specifications and performance bond are on file in the office of the City Engineer and available for inspection by prospective bidders.

Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank in the sum of $500.00, made payable to the order of the Safety-Service Director, of the City of Marion, Ohio, as a guarantee that, if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured. The check shall be forfeited if the said bidder fails to enter into a contract with the City of Marion, Ohio, and to furnish the required bond within fifteen days after notice of acceptance of bid. Bidders are required to use the printed forms which will be furnished upon application.

Bids for labor and material must be separate and sealed in envelopes plainly marked "Bids for Bennett Street, Nye Street, Glad Street and Flea Avenue Sewers."

A performance bond of 60% of the amount of contract, with a satisfactory corporate surety, will be required for the faithful performance of the work.

Should any bid be rejected, the accompanying check will be returned to the bidder forthwith and, should any bid be accepted, the check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

The right is reserved by the City of Marion, Ohio, to reject any or all bids.

Our buyers report:

Grand Rapids, Mich.
July 5, 1947.

Dear Folks:
It's sure a swell time to have to buy a whole new stock of furniture. This town is teeming with buyers and for the first time in six years the "free enterprise" system is what they're finding. These factories have tied with one another to see who could offer the most attractive furniture. You're going to be surprised at the improved styling and quality. Bought some lovely lamp and cocktail tables at Hexmans. They ought to be a sweet item for the opening. Well keep pushing the work at the store for we've some lovely things rolling your way and you'd better have a place to put them.
Love

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

RARELY have I put in a more hectic day than the one I spent with Mary after Dr. Twitchell had left us.

At his request, I had gone into the sitting room when Katharine came back from her conference with him, and the "sales talk" he had given me had not lessened my nervousness, to put it mildly.

"Much depends upon you today, Mrs. Graham," he began. "If you can keep your niece so interested that she does not have a chance to dwell upon this horrible fear which is obsessing her, you will be bolstering her strength immensurably for the ordeal of meeting whatever answer your husband's sister will send tomorrow. For whether the verdict means joy or sorrow, it will take a lot out of her at the time she receives it.

"Please believe," he went on, while I felt as if I had been assigned the task of walking a tight rope a hundred feet above the ground, balancing a pail of water in either hand, "that I fully realize the almost insurpeable difficulty of the task I have given you. And yet, Mrs. Bickett assures me that you are the only person who can guide Mrs. Veritzen through the intricacies of her role."

Irresistible Impulse

Even through my dolor, I had an almost irresistible impulse to laugh at the old chap's ponderous periods. But with a mighty effort, I kept my face straight and attentive as he went on:

"While Mrs. Bickett will be the ultimate judge of her patient's condition, you, naturally, will be the first to notice whether she is showing signs of fatigue or of undue strain. Under those conditions, stop working at once and turn your pupil over to Mrs. Bickett.

"I am sure you will be able to manage beautifully," he concluded, and I mentally commented that he would have given a comforting lollypop to a child with the same manner. "And before I go, I wish to give you a message from Mrs. Bickett. She thinks that it will make things less abrupt if you go now and tell your husband about the proposed bridge game, instead of waiting until Mrs. Veritzen requests it."

Thinks of Everything

"Mrs. Bickett thinks of everything," I said warmly, realizing that Katharine had made it possible for me to notify Dicky of our scheme to play bridge with Mary in time for him to plan his schedule of work accordingly.

"Indeed she does," he agreed. "Now, I have only one more question. Then I shall leave. I am behind my schedule now."

With a little feeling of disloyalty to a most efficient physician as well as a loyal friend, I found myself mentally urging on his leave-taking.

But he was not to be hurried. He put his question in leasurely, even measured fashion.

"How early do you expect that message from your sister-in-law tomorrow?" he asked.

"I cannot tell you that," I replied. "It depends upon the time she receives my letter. Ordinarily, they do not rise before half past eight, but I imagine she will be anxious about the letter and may telephone us back at any time."

"No matter when she telephones," he said, and his voice was impressive, "Mrs. Veritzen must not know of the message before I arrive. I shall be here at half past seven. I am sure she will not awaken before that time."

No Inkling

"If she does, she will receive no inkling of the message," I told him.

"Thank you," he said. "Now I will bid you good day."

I ushered him out of the door, and waited only until I heard the descending lift before dashing upstairs to Dicky's penthouse studio.

When he opened the door, he was scowling, unconsciously, I knew for Dicky is always courteous, but I know also how he hates interruptions to his work, and I was also aware how behind his schedule was an account of this trouble with Mary.

"I'm terribly sorry to barge in this way, dearest," I told him, "but this is doctors' orders."

"Why!" he exclaimed in quick alarm. "Is Mary worse? I'll come down right away."

Like other men of his time, George Washington had his own private recipe for the brewing of beer.

GI Post Auxiliary Has Active Program

Recent activities of the auxiliary to GI Post No. 584, American Legion included the group's first official meeting at the post clubrooms Thursday night, a July 4th broadcast over radio station WMRN Friday, and official closing of the charter Saturday. A total of 29 charter members was enrolled. At the Thursday night meeting Mrs. William Tuskes announced forming a glee club and a quartet of members and it was decided regular club meetings will be held the first and third Tuesday nights of each month, the first to be a business session, and the other a social meeting. Mrs. Gerald Messenger, president, announced the following additions to committees: Mrs. Bernice Ulery, rehabilitation; Mrs. Jane Joyce, poppy, and Mrs. James Casperson, unit activities. For a program, Miss Delores Cosey presented a group of songs, accompanied by Miss Patricia Curl. Miss Bernice Cosey was a guest also.
